THE PURITAN AHEAD AT DUSK

Another Attempt to be Made To-Day—Paddy Ryan Calls Sullivan a Coward—Racing at Brighton Beach and Elsewhere

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—The failure of the Puritan and Genesta to race on Monday and Wednesday is probably responsible for the decrease in business done by excursion steamers to-day. Very few of the many excursion steamers left their piers this morning with a full complement of passengers. The Iron Steamboat company sent out three steamers and the Knickerbocker line two. The number of private yachts and steamers which left the city was certainly smaller than on Monday. Betting on the result of the race was active down town this morning and odds, while in the majority of cases in favor of the Puritan, were not as heavy as on Monday, sporting men seem to think that with a stiff breeze and heavy sea the Genesta will be able to outsail her competitor with ease. There were a few offers of two to one in favor of the Puritan, which found ready takers.

THE SCENE AROUND THE LIGHTSHIP.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—The flotilla which gathered around the Scotland lightship this morning was imposing in numbers even if it did not equal the dimensions of the great fleet which covered the face of the ocean a week ago. It consisted of a goodly number of yachts, from the largest schooner to saucy little sloops and cutters which darted about among their larger companions. There were steam yachts and a number of large steamers, especially engaged for guests of the New York Yacht club.

Some four hundred persons went down to Sandy Hook last night, expecting to find accommodations and [illegible] sorry that they went. After walking about wet, hungry and cold from that inhospitable spot, few of them remained to see the boat race which had prompted them to their unwise expedition. I am [illegible] with cold and hunger they took the earliest boats or trains for New York or Long Branch.

A STIFF BREEZE.

The day was regarded as a most favorable one for the Genesta, but the Puritan, after the gobbling [illegible] in a rousing southeaster at Newport should not be thought to dislike the weather. Gen. Ben Butler could not have wished a better breeze for the America, and to-day he is not [illegible] to have any reason to complain, even though he were arranging the match as he did at Gloucester, when he only condition of the race was that there should be an eight-knot breeze. It was then said, after he had been beaten by the Fortuna, the Gitana and the Mohican, that he had all the wind he wanted, and the process of whipping him was termed "educating Ben Butler." He will go over the course to-day in the America. It is thought the America will never have shown to better advantage for in a rattling lower-sail breeze she is regarded as very fast.

BULLETINS.

SANDY HOOK, Sept 11—9:30 A. M.—The wind is moderate from the east, weather cloudy and sea going down somewhat. Hope is expressed to-day that the first real contest may take place between the yachts Puritan and Genesta for the cup.

10 A. M.—The Puritan and Genesta are coming down the bay, both under sail. The wind is sixteen miles an hour and from the east.

10:30 A. M.—The Genesta has dropped her tug and is now passing out under sail.

11 A. M.—The Puritan, Genesta and judges' boat have just reached Scotland lightship. The yachts are making ready for a start.

11:30 A. M.—The preparatory signal to start has just been given.

11:50 A. M.—An outward bound bark got in the way of both yachts, compelling them to pay off. They [illegible] the Genesta the start.

12:02 A. M.—The Puritan is to windward now.

12:30 P. M.—The wind is now fifteen miles an hour, east northeast.

12:40 P. M.—The Genesta is [illegible] but to leeward of the Puritan.

12:25 P. M.—The Puritan is out pointing the Genesta and is well to windward.

12:57 P. M.—The Genesta is ahead a little more than a mile. The yachts are both standing on the same tack, the Puritan working to windward at the time. The Genesta is well in on the Long Island shore.

1:45 P. M.—The Genesta has gone about and is now standing southeast.

1:47 P. M.—The Genesta has crossed to the windward of the Puritan.

12:55 P. M.—The yachts are now on the same tack. The course of the Genesta seems to be a little to the windward of the Puritan.

1 P. M.—The wind is blowing from the east southeast, and getting lighter. The Puritan still holds the best wind and is now overhauling the Genesta. Both have set their club topsails.

1:10 P. M.—The Genesta has gone about, the Puritan also 20 seconds later. The Genesta is ahead.

2 P. M.—Both yachts are standing southeast. The Puritan is gaining a little on the Genesta.

2:10 P. M.—The Puritan has gained a minute and a half in the past half hour.

2:25 P. M.—The Puritan has passed to windward of the Genesta.

2:40 P. M.—Puritan now two lengths ahead.

2:40 P. M.—The Puritan is now ahead. The Genesta has run up even with the Puritan, but the Puritan is now to windward.

THE GENESTA AHEAD.

3 P. M.—The Genesta is running ahead, but the Puritan is well to windward. About fifteen miles of the outward course has been covered.

3:15 P. M.—The Puritan has just gone about, standing northwest, and four minutes later the Genesta went about standing on the same course. The wind is light, from the east.

3:40 P. M.—The Genesta and Puritan have been out of sight for some time. If they are not now homeward bound it is not likely that the race will be sailed within seven hours, the limit of time. The signal service reports the wind at this hour to be blowing at the rate of only four miles an hour from the east.

5 P. M.—The yachts have not yet turned the stake boat. There probably will be no result to-day.

6 P. M.—Latest advices from the contesting yachts are to the effect that the wind died out before they rounded the stake boat. The probabilities are strongly that they will not be able to cover the course in the required seven hours.

6:05 P. M.—The Puritan set her spanker and turned at 4:40 P. M. and the Genesta at 4:40 P. M.

6:30 P. M.—The Puritan and the Genesta are sighted returning. The Puritan is 11 minutes in the lead. We are unable to tell if the yachts turned the stake boat, on account of darkness.

6:15 P. M.—The yachts did not round the float. The Genesta is coming in in tow and the Puritan is sailing in.

6:40 P. M.—The yacht race has been declared off for the day.

AN INTERESTING REVIEW

A Full Report of the Race, with Movements of the Two Vessels

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—To-day's yacht race has proved another flat failure for lack of wind and [illegible] getting the yachts started. A large number of excursion steamers, yachts and sailing craft [illegible] around the contestants of course to the outer mark where the Puritan arrived at [illegible] the Genesta [illegible] nearly two miles to leeward of it. The yachts were towed back to the Horseshoe, from whence they will start at about 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

A start was made at 11:30 in a fresh breeze from the northeast and an ugly easterly swell. If not for the delay in putting the crews and officers on the yachts from the judges' boat many think the race might have been sailed to-day within the time limit of seven hours.

The early morning gave every promise of a good breeze for the contest and a good yachting day for all. Hundreds of people were early astir and flocking to the steamboat docks, each with high hopes for the success of their favorite boat. A larger number of yachtsmen and their friends than could left the city this morning and it were [illegible] on that the race would be made in seven hours.

THE START.

At 8 o'clock the Puritan was standing out through the narrows under mainsail and jib. When the judges' boat having on board Messrs. Lines, Schuyler and Stebbins, arrived at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, the Genesta also was under way, heading for the narrows under a jib. Her white cricket crew were seen aloft in the rigging, and the cutter's mainsail was hoisted in a few minutes.

The easterly wind which prevailed yesterday left a heavy ground swell which rolled over the bar and west bank, making itself felt as the yachts made all [illegible] their way through the channel to the Scotland light ship, the starting point.

By half past 10 several steamers and the steam yachts Atalanta, Electra and Wanda, and over a score of sailing yachts, including Gen. Butler's America, were assembled near the light. The wind was blowing a fresh breeze from the eastward, and the tide was about one-quarter ebb when the preparatory signal was given at 11:30, followed by one to start at 11:35.

The course was east by north twenty miles to windward and return. The Puritan lay hove to when the signal was given, while the Genesta lay near an imaginary line, ready to slip over in a moment. By excellent management Capt. Crocker sent the Puritan across the line first in handsome shape, forty-one seconds after the whistle was blown, the Genesta following six seconds later, and to leeward about 200 yards.

THE YACHTS' MOVEMENTS.

The sea was quite heavy during the first hour of the race, and the Genesta showed her good weatherly qualities to advantage by running away from the white sloop. Her first tack was made at 12:41, when she was apparently a half a mile ahead of the Puritan, and heading N. E. by E. for Rockaway Beach. She only crossed the Puritan's bow by about three lengths, and immediately went about again at 12:45.

The Puritan kept on the starboard tack until 12:50 when she came about, with the Genesta then under her lee. The wind falling light soon after she began steadily to increase her lead on the Genesta, and when at 1:58 she set her sprit topsail and the Genesta her club topsail, the Boston boat had a good lead.

After a long stretch to starboard the Puritan tacked again at 4:10, the Genesta following suit five minutes after. The boats both carried the same sail—mainsail, club topsail, fore staysail and jib. The Genesta took in her balloon fore staysail and set a small one while on this tack.

The Puritan made a short stretch on the port tack at 4:10, going about again at 4:20. At this time the stake boat was three miles to windward and was just visible, the wind being light and the swells still quite heavy there was but little chance for the yachts to reach.

The Genesta set her big club topsail at 4:50 and went about to port. The Puritan had been slowly but surely eating her way to windward of her and against, and was now a good mile ahead of her.

THE PURITAN ROUNDS THE MARK.

At [illegible] both went about again, while over 100 [illegible] waited the coming of the yachts at the outer mark. The Puritan tacked for it at 5:23 when the Genesta was yet nearly two miles [illegible] with not wind enough to fill her sails. The Boston boat rounded the mark at 5:26 P. M. while a chorus of steam whistles from the fleet of steamers greeted her. A moment later she slipped away over the now almost glassy surface of the undulating swells, toward the brilliant sunset sky in the west.

The committee finding it impossible to sail the race in seven hours, took the Genesta in tow, while the tug [illegible] was sent to bring the Puritan into the Horseshoe.

The yachts are to be started at 10:30 to-morrow morning. Indications to-night are that the weather will continue light to-morrow.

EXCITEMENT IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 11.—Excitement over the international yacht races [illegible] bulletin boards are surrounded by [illegible] masses of people eager to learn the latest news, as they would be if it were a close contest presidential election. The Merchants' Exchange [illegible] long and shorts have [illegible] before the all absorbing question. One [illegible] that the wind was strong from the east, but [illegible] later news that the wind [illegible] the Puritan was a quiet, [illegible] two to one on the Boston sloop.

RYAN CALLS SULLIVAN A COWARD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Paddy Ryan, who has been training for the last two months to meet Sullivan, returned to the city to-day. He says he is very anxious to meet Sullivan, as per agreement to spar on their merits to a finish. Ryan says Sullivan has never wanted to give him another chance since the fight at Mississippi City. Sullivan was in the best condition that day that he ever was and Ryan claims to have been also. Ryan further says that he knows that Sullivan is a fast and furious fighter while he has the best of it, but his heart would fail him if he didn't crush his opponent in the first few rounds. He is unprincipled and untruthful as he is cowardly. He allowed me to go into training at a great expense and loss of time, and allowed Mr. Dunn to expend a large sum of money in the preliminary preparations for this meeting when from the first he never intended to meet me. I shall give him a reasonable time to consider his pusillanimous conduct and if he fails to come to time I shall declare myself champion of America and be prepared to defend the title against all comers."

THE GEORGIA TRAGEDY.

Full Particulars of the Elopement that Ended so Bloodily

ATLANTA, GA., Sept 11.—Following are the particulars of the terrible encounter in which three men were mortally wounded that occurred here. The parties were John and Matthew Maxwell, father and son, and John R. Shelton, who eloped with and married Miss Ida Maxwell. John Maxwell is a highly respectable citizen living on Fillmore street. His son Matthew is a well known carriage manufacturer. Maxwell has three comely daughters and the second, aged 18, Miss Ida, has been quite a belle, having a host of admirers. Among them was John R. Shelton, a young man of good family but careless habits, whose visits were forbidden by the girl's father. Nevertheless they continued to meet secretly and pledged their love. A gentleman told Matthew Maxwell that his sister and Shelton had planned an elopement. Hurrying home young Maxwell rushed up to the second story room which his sister occupied, and demanded admittance, which was refused. With a kick he burst the door open and there found Miss Ida already dressed for the escapade.

"My God, sister," he exclaimed, "you will not disgrace the family by such a proceeding as this."

"I will marry John," she replied, "if I have to die in the attempt. It is useless for you to try prevent it."

Finding the brother's expostulation vain the girl remained obdurate. He went out, locked the door and left her a prisoner, and went to his room. In [illegible] minutes he opened the door and found the room empty.

A PLUCKY ESCAPE.

It developed that the girl, during his brief absence, [illegible] the window and [illegible] to the ground [illegible] effect. The [illegible] went to [illegible] a carriage [illegible] told that she had [illegible] and was away. By this time the elder Maxwell was upon the scene. The two men were fearfully agitated. They went into the house, and at 6 o'clock, armed to the teeth, emerged and proceeded to Davis street, whither Shelton took his bride after being married. The two furious men went to Shelton's door. Shelton was standing on the threshold with a hatchet.

"You—" exclaimed Maxwell. "I will shoot you to death unless you give up my daughter."

"Do not come near me," shouted Shelton, raising the hatchet and advancing.

Just then the younger Maxwell seeing his father in danger stepped in between and received a heavy blow from the tomahawk. Dropping the bloody instrument Shelton drew a pistol and fired at the elder Maxwell. Simultaneously Maxwell also fired and all three men fell across each other wounded and bleeding.

The girl, who had been the cause of all this bloody work, rushed out upon the scene and on [illegible] her dying husband and called him by all endearing names, while her father and brother were neglected.

In five minutes hundreds of people had collected. Officers came and had the men removed. Shelton and young Maxwell will die, while the death of the old man is highly probable. Just a month ago Mathew Maxwell was himself the hero of an elopement scrap. A young lady engaged to another man eloped with him the night before she was to be married.

A RIGHTEOUS PUNISHMENT.

CINCINNATI, Sept 11.—Last Saturday a negro named [illegible], who had just been discharged from the Cincinnati workhouse and had obtained employment on a farm in Boone county, Kentucky, made a brutal assault and rape upon a five year old daughter of a poor man named Lunsford. The negro knew that the child was alone in the house before he entered it. Having threatened to kill her if she told it, the little one did not tell her mother until pain compelled the disclosure. Scales was arrested and with difficulty taken to Burlington jail. There have been rumors nightly of attempts to lynch him, and last night a mob gathered at Florence in wagons and on horseback and started for Burlington, broke into the jail, carried the negro into the woods on the turnpike and hanged him.

THE CASE OF MAXWELL.

ST. LOUIS, Sept 11.—Walter H. Lennox Maxwell, the presumed murderer of Preller, was taken into the court of criminal correction this afternoon. By an agreement between counsel the case was continued until October 12, before which time the grand jury will have an opportunity to take the matter up.

THE ST PAUL MEETING ADJOURNS

News and Gossip from the National Capital—Rosecrans Calls for Resignations—A Reply to Admiral Jouett's Protest

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—Tammany hall general committee, at its meeting to-night, passed resolutions relating to civil service reform, demanding from the state and federal authorities the complete redemption of pledges made by the democratic party at the late presidential election, to secure to the people of the state and nation an efficient, capable and honest public service, protesting against any legislative or administrative measure which may tend to create a permanent office holding class in this country, denouncing all attempts to grant the tenure of office to any body of public servants as the first step toward subversion of those doctrines of equality which have been the safeguard of the republic, declaring "that appointments to offices should be made on the untrammeled and undivided responsibility of public officers chosen by the people for the purpose, and denouncing [illegible] constituents for the manner in which they have discharged their trusts, that the creation of irresponsible boards or commissioners vested with authority to control or interfere with the exercise of the power of appointments by elective officers is an abridgement of the powers conferred [illegible] chosen servants of the people, and contrary [illegible] and an [illegible] of the suffrage.

A LARGE FAILURE.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—Judge Barrett, in the supreme court to-day, granted an attachment against the property of the insolvent jewelry firm of Hoguet, Marx & Co., who failed last week, at the instance of Simon Dessar for $4,000 on the ground [illegible]. David Van Moppes also got an attachment against the firm for $1,[illegible] for goods sold in Paris, France. Amelia M. Crosen and Nathan Kerfman also procured an attachment for $[illegible] for goods sold while Adolphus Marx was in Europe last spring. He got these goods by representing that the firm was solvent. The liabilities of the firm at the time of the failure are said to have been $600,000, while the assets amount to about $160,000.

GRADING OF WHEAT CHANGED.

ST. PAUL, Sept 11.—The railroad and warehouse commission has abolished the grade of No. 1 hard wheat and No. 1 northern is adjusted. July 10th other grades are to remain unchanged. This change has been brought about through agitation at Duluth. The effects of the change is claimed by experts to be to grade all good wheat No. 1 hard and add four cents per bushel to the value of such products.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

PITTSBURG, Sept 11.—At a large meeting of coal miners at Webster, Pa., to-day it was unanimously resolved to stand out for the district prices. Reports from the pools to-day state that all the miners are idle in the fourth pool but about twenty-five. In the third pool twenty six men are working and all others are out. No change is expected till after the convention on Tuesday at Monongahela City.

ORDER OF CHOSEN FRIENDS.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—The fifth annual convention of the supreme council of Chosen Friends adjourned to-day to meet next year at Toronto, Canada, or San Francisco, providing the grand council of California will pay the expense of transportation of delegates from the Missouri river and return.

FREE THINKERS' CONVENTION.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept 11.—The New York state free thinkers' convention opened this morning. Many prominent free thinkers will deliver addresses during the day's session. Col. R. G. Ingersoll will speak at the meeting on Sunday evening.

ORDERED TO FORT LOWELL.

EL PASO, TEX., Sept 11.—Lieut. Davis, in command of 100 scouts, is stationed here awaiting orders. He has been instructed to proceed to Fort Lowell, Arizona, immediately.

THE WEEK'S FAILURES.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—The business failures during the seven days were 203 as compared with [illegible] last week.

SMALLPOX.

TROY, N. Y., Sept 11.—Two cases of small pox were detected at the depot in this city this morning.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL POOL

The Meeting Adjourns without Reaching an Agreement on Disputed Points.

ST. PAUL, Sept 11.—The general managers of lines forming the transcontinental association held a meeting this morning, another effort was made by the representatives of the Southern and Central Pacific to have the matter of award of percentages referred to the presidents of the different lines for final settlement, but this was defeated by a majority vote. They then offered a resolution to have the general agent make out a balance sheet showing the operations of each line, but this was also defeated.

A resolution was then adopted by a majority vote that each line should make out a statement of its claim against the Southern Pacific for each of the six months from January to June 30 and draw on that road for the amount due.

Stubbs, of the Central Pacific, notified each road not to make out such drafts, and also notified them if made out they would not be paid.

By an agreement made at a previous meeting among the lines business for July, August and September was amicably adjusted, the agreement being that settlement for these three months should be based on earnings for the previous three months and not on the award of percentages made by Messrs. Fogg, Ford and Gray. General managers' meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

The general freight agents also held a meeting this morning, but nothing important business was transacted. The association will hold another meeting this afternoon to hear the representations of Mr. Sherb, of California, relative to shipment of oranges east, after which the association will adjourn subject to call of the executive committee and also subject to thirty days' notice of withdrawal by any line. As yet no such notice of withdrawal has been given.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—Al. Hopkins, of North Carolina, to be minister resident and consul general of the United States to Liberia. Irwin Dugan to be supervising inspector of steam vessels for the sixth district.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—Rev. Moses A. Hopkins, of Franklinton, N. C., appointed minister to Liberia, was born a slave in Montgomery county, Virginia, and after gaining his freedom pursued a course of study and was graduated at Lincoln University, Pennsylvania, in the class of 1874, and also graduated at the Auburn, N. Y., Presbyterian Theological seminary. In addition to his services as Presbyterian clergyman, he has been engaged in educational pursuits, and was principal of the colored normal school at Franklinton, N. C., for several years. He was highly recommended for the position by the governor and other officers of North Carolina, and by other men of prominence, including a good many clergymen and representative colored men of the country.

FACING A HARD JOB.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—Assistant Secretary Jenks of the interior department has turned his attention to the railroad branch of his duties. He expresses himself very much dissatisfied with what he finds. The reports of the Union and Central Pacific are to him most unsatisfactory. "The subsidized roads are evidently being stripped of everything valuable, so that when the government has to take it will find nothing to take hold of. The neglect of the government's interests in the past has been most shameful. I propose to suggest to the commissioner of railroads a system of reports demanding information that will be of value, even to requiring a report of the proceedings of directors' meetings." The commissioner of railroads is endowed by law with all the powers of a congressional committee, but this authority does not seem to have been exercised. In his proposed endeavors to furnish he is confident of the hearty cooperation of Gen. Johnston, the new commissioner.

THE CURE OF ALABAMA CLAIMS.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—In the controversy raised by accounting officers of the treasury in regard to disbursements of the court of Alabama claims, and the authority under which they were made, a breezy correspondence has been started with First Comptroller Durham by ex-Senator Cresswell, counsel for the United States before the court, whose salary Durham has suspended. Cresswell spreads upon his letters copious extracts from debates in congress when this matter was under discussion, showing an almost unanimous opinion that his compensation ought to be by a fixed salary and that the $8,000 was agreed to upon motion of Senator, now Secretary, Bayard. The "inference is irresistible," Cresswell says, "either that Bayard and his conferees did not know the meaning of their own language or that Comptroller Durham is in error."

THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—To-day was a very busy day at the White house, and the president received a larger number of visitors than on any other day since his return. Among the prominent callers were Secretary Bayard, Assistant Secretary Porter and ex-Senator McDonald. The president held a public reception in the East room in the afternoon, lasting nearly an hour.

A MOTION DENIED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The second comptroller of the treasury has made a decision denying the motion of counsel for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company, that the accounts of that company for general transportation of soldiers and supplies during the civil war be reopened. The application was based on the ground that the company was subjected to extraordinary damages and expense in executing the business of the government and was therefore entitled to more liberal compensation than was allowed at the time the accounts were settled. The comptroller declined to reopen the accounts for the reason that they have already been settled and because no new evidence was presented to justify such course. He also thought that the property of the company instead of being jeopardized by the business of the government was in fact protected thereby.

ROSECRANS CALLS FOR RESIGNATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—Gen. Rosecrans, register of the treasury, has asked for the resignation of Wm. I. Titcomb, assistant register, and Hartwell Jenison, Charles Mat, Arthur Hendricks, J. H. Petty and N. B. Walker, chiefs of divisions in the register's office. The resignations are demanded, the register says, so as to secure unbiased judgment and cordial cooperation in any changes that may be necessary for the good of the public service. The register has found that officials whose resignations he has asked are not in sympathy with him in the reforms which he proposes in his office, and for that reason he desires to replace them with men upon whom he can rely.

YELLOW FEVER IN MEXICO.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The marine hospital bureau is informed through the collector of customs at El Paso, that yellow fever is epidemic in the state of Sonora, Mexico, and a request is made for the appointment of a medical inspector at Nogales. The collector was authorized to appoint an inspector at once.

The bureau is also informed of the arrival of the steamship Gardiner at Hampton roads, twenty one days from Marseilles, with all well on board. None of her crew will be allowed to land until the authorities are satisfied that no danger will result therefrom.

WILL STAY IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—A member of the Ohio [illegible] says that out of 400 clerks [illegible] forty who are willing [illegible] this fall. He says that many Ohio clerks have deliberately used up all their thirty days' leave so that they have an excuse for remaining in Washington. The action of the [illegible] and subsequent events will be watched with interest.

SEPTEMBER CROP REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—The September report of the department of agriculture, now in press, contains an article showing the production, consumption and distribution of wheat in the United States in the last [illegible] years past and demonstrating the excess of commercial estimates of the [illegible] wheat production and the completeness of [illegible] returns of western states as to the area [illegible].

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Secretary Bayard was in [illegible] to-day that orders is being [illegible].

Justice General Nelson H. Davis will [illegible] place of the retired list September 20. His successor is understood to be either Col. Roger Jones or Col. A. Baird.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Fourth-class postmasters were appointed to-day as follows: Arizona—At [illegible] Frank Delaney. Montana—At Flathead, [illegible]. Oregon—At Tillamook, Maggie [illegible].

A RUMOR.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—It is expected that Secretary Bayard will recommend ex-Gov. Reynolds, of Missouri, as minister to Spain.

A GOOD SHOWING

The Third Auditor of the Treasury Shows that he is Doing a Great Amount of Work

WASHINGTON, Sept 11.—Col. John S. Williams, third auditor of the treasury, to-day addressed a letter to the secretary of the treasury, stating that on the 1st day of May last, when he assumed the duties of third auditor, it was notorious that the business of the office was largely in arrears, the cause being that the clerical force was not sufficient for the proper dispatch of the work. The pension division was nearly a year behind in its examination and settlement of accounts of pension agents involving a sum of $7[illegible]. Miscellaneous claims against the government, including state war claims, amounted to $1,[illegible]. Some of the work in the collection division was over two years in arrears and in the claims division over 11,000 claims were pending and unsettled, involving $[illegible]. Unsettled accounts of army quartermasters and commissaries amounted to $5,548,[illegible] and unsettled accounts of engineers amounted to $[illegible], making a grand total of $101,27[illegible]. In the short space of four months ending August 31 and without increasing the clerical force, Auditor Williams says the accounts of all pension agents have been examined and settled up to the 1st of June last and clerks in that division are now examining and settling accounts of the last quarter, for which [illegible].

IMPROVED WORKING CAPACITY.

As showing the improvement in the working capacity of the clerks in that division, he says that during the months of May, June, July and August 1884 there were examined and settled accounts aggregating $1,[illegible] for the corresponding four months in 1885 the same clerks, with perhaps three or four exceptions, examined and settled $7,105,[illegible]. These figures make their own comment.

In the horse claims division 615 claims have been adjusted or rejected, involving $7[illegible], besides carrying on a large amount of correspondence necessary to the proper disposal of pending cases. During the same period in 1884 200 cases were disposed of, involving $25,774.

The accounts of the quartermasters, commissaries and engineers are up as far as it is possible for them to be made. Clerks in these divisions are now engaged in current work. The claims division, the collections division and the horse claims division are the only ones in arrear and the character of the work necessarily precludes the possibility of its being done promptly. This is explained by the fact that in almost every case information is required from other officers and outside sources and involves long delay.

Auditor Williams says it is due to the clerks in the office to say that with few exceptions since the present auditor's incumbency they have been faithful and efficient. The improvement in this respect is simply wonderful. As a consequence a large amount of work has been performed and therefore the whole business is in a very satisfactory condition.

IMPROVED HEALTH.

The auditor says in this connection, however, that it may be stated that since the 6th day of March there appears to have been an astonishing improvement in the health of the clerks. Last year of 1[illegible] clerks there were [illegible] sick days. To-day the auditor knows of only two clerks who are absent on sick leave. As a result the improved condition of business of the office and the fact that greater efficiency has been obtained, the third auditor recommends a reduction of the clerical force. The law now provides for 158 clerks. There are now six vacancies by resignation which need not be filled, and the services of twelve more clerks can be dispensed with without injuring the public service, making a total reduction of eighteen clerks.

ADMIRAL JOUETT'S PROTEST

Comptroller Maynard Writes a Reply, Disputing the Admiral's Plea

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Second Comptroller Maynard has written a reply to Rear Admiral Jouett in regard to an item of $100 paid for the entertainment of visitors to the flagship Tennessee at the New Orleans exposition, in which he reviews the whole question in the light of the points raised by the admiral in defense of the expenditure.

He takes issue with the admiral on the point that the expenditure could properly be made from the naval contingent fund, and quotes from a decision made by the attorney general, that "contingent expenses" as used in the appropriation acts mean such incidental casual expenses as are necessary or at least appropriate and convenient in order to the performance of duties required by the department or office for which the appropriation is made.

The comptroller says he has been unable to find any law which requires either the navy department or any officer of the navy to entertain public officials at the expense of the government, and adds that he cannot assent to the admiral's statement that it has been the practice of accounting officers to allow such disbursement, under the head of contingent or extraordinary expenses. But whatever the practice in this respect may have been he says it will be conceded that if unlawful it cannot be too promptly discontinued.

The comptroller adds that the records of the treasury department will bear him out in the statement that from time immemorial it has been the practice where a public officer had received money belonging to the government to which he was for any reason not entitled, to make stoppage in his pay account until the amount illegally received had been made good.

In concluding, the comptroller suggests that the admiral bring suit for the portion of his pay withheld and so test the whole question.

Modest Bill Nye

Minneapolis Tribune.

Bill Nye is not voluble at all in conversation. In fact he is retiring in his manners and talks only to those who know him and his cronies. He is modest—all humorists are modest. To illustrate: Bill Nye has a brother who practices law in Hudson, which said brother made the speech nominating Spooner for senator last winter in the Wisconsin legislature. Said Bill, with a flash of family pride in his starboard eye: "He is the only one in our family who can talk. He talks sense too." Lawyer Nye was probably never heard of outside of Wisconsin, while his brother's sayings have gone three times around the world and got as far back as Pittsburg on the fourth lap. Such is the modesty of the American humorist.

COMMENT ON HENDRICKS' SPEECH

A Favorite of the Queen Accidentally Hanged—A Protocol Fixing the Afghan Boundary Signed—Old World Notes.

PARIS, Sept 11.—Le Matin to-day publishes a special telegram from Madrid via the frontier, stating that a military uprising has taken place in that city.

LONDON, Sept 11.—Advices from Madrid say that the military rising in that city is limited to one of the largest barracks. The soldiers seized their arms and shouted "Death to our chiefs." The authorities who had feared an outbreak, were prepared for the rising and vigorously suppressed it before it had time to assume formidable proportions. Every precaution is being taken to prevent a recurrence.

SPAIN'S APOLOGY.

BERLIN, Sept 11.—Count Benomar, Spanish ambassador at Berlin, has been notified that a courier has crossed the frontier, bearing a note of apology from the Spanish government for the affront to the German embassy at Madrid. Members of the German foreign office will be summoned for consultation immediately on arrival of the Spanish note in this city.

NEWS LESS PEACEFUL.

PARIS, Sept 11.—Spanish news to-day is of a less peaceful character. Tumultuous manifestations have occurred in [illegible] towns. Le Paris states that it has received information from an authentic source that a German fleet has been ordered to be in readiness in case of emergencies.

GERMANY'S OBJECT.

LONDON, Sept 11.—It seems the object of Germany in annexing the Carolines was to obtain a port of call for ships bound to New Guinea. She also expects an increase of trade with the Pacific on completion of the Panama canal.

RESIGNED IN DISGUST.

MADRID, Sept 11.—Admiral Topeti, under-secretary of marine, has resigned his office on account of the friendly terms embodied in the Spanish reply to Germany respecting the Carolines affair.

A STORY DENIED.

BERLIN, Sept 11.—It is officially announced that there has been no personal correspondence between Emperor William and King Alfonso regarding the Carolines affair.

ENGLAND

COMMENT ON HENDRICK'S SPEECH.

LONDON, Sept 11.—The speech of Hendricks at Indianapolis Tuesday, indorsing Parnell's demand for Irish parliamentary independence has provoked a great deal of hostile comment in England. London newspapers have so far failed to notice the speech, but most of the provincial papers have devoted leaders to it, and a majority of them criticize the speech adversely and bitterly. Many of the criticisms are based on sentimental grounds, and deplore the recurrence of anything calculated to disturb the pleasant relations which were becoming so firmly cemented between England and America. Some of them more outspoken treat the vice president's utterances as a serious grievance which will require some sort of diplomatic action. The Sheffield Daily Telegraph considers the speech a distinct breach of neutrality which should [illegible] the words and acts of the American president toward a friendly government. The Morning News of Hull complains that Hendricks wishes Parnell God speed in a disloyal adventure. The Daily Mercury of Plymouth believes that official notice ought to be taken of the occurrence, which it regards of more importance than several other incidents which have engaged the attention not only of diplomats but the armies of great powers before now. The Daily Press of Bristol expresses the belief that Americans now living in England will generally condemn the utterances of the American vice president and especially the sending of a cablegram of sympathy from the meeting at which he spoke to encourage Parnell in his disloyal and revolutionary aims.

A FAVORITE OF THE QUEEN HANGED.

LONDON, Sept 11.—James Bowman, the gamekeeper so frequently mentioned in the queen's "Life in the Highlands," was found hanging head downward in a wire fence in the forest yesterday. The position of the dead man forbids the idea that he committed suicide. He had evidently gotten entangled in the wire accidentally and must have hung there for nineteen hours before he was cut down. Her majesty is much affected by his death and was on her way to his cottage when he expired.

A [illegible] ITALIAN ROUTED.

LONDON, Sept 11.—Two men last night approached a sentry on duty at a powder magazine at Woolwich, and before he could give the alarm, seized and beat him in a brutal manner, leaving him lying half dead on his post. They then attempted to enter the magazine, but becoming alarmed at some noise in the vicinity, decamped.

STEAMER WRECKED AND MANY LOST.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Information comes to-day from Genoa to the effect that the steamer Villa de Malaga with sixty passengers and a crew of twenty-eight foundered near Savona. When the vessel, which was supposed to have struck upon rocks, was found to be sinking a terrible panic ensued among the passengers and the crew. It is said availed themselves of the confusion thus created to lower three boats with which the vessel was provided and made good their escape from the sinking ship. Forty four passengers, however, managed to save themselves, but the remaining sixteen were drowned. The cowardly action of the crew aroused much indignation here.

THE DEMOCRATIC ATTITUDE TOWARD CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

Events are rapidly bringing most men's minds round to the conclusion that the republican party is to be the main defense of civil service reform In this party only is there any considerable body of opinion that supports this reform. The mugwumps themselves know it and acknowledge it The attitude of three-fourths of the democratic party toward civil service reform is that of pronounced hostility, and by the remaining one-fourth the reform is for the most part coldly received Nearly all the democratic journals condemn it, even so far as it has been practiced by the present administration The Boston Globe, the leading democratic paper of New England, thinks the time has come to make a test of "the new dispensation," so as to see whether "the theory of politics without politicians and parties without party spirit" will stand and it says therefore, that "if the mugwumpian idea of the day is to obtain and be universally recognized, it would be well to start it in Massachusetts by nominating a candidate for governor on the mugwump idea—it suggests Judge Endicott, secretary of war—"and give the new idea a fair trial." In this strain of sarcasm the Globe proceeds

The theory that any democrat who has ever made a speech for the party, ever paid a dollar for campaign purposes or ever put in an hour's work is a dangerous man and must not be recognized by the present appointing power seems to be the favorite mugwumpian idea just now If that is to obtain why not change the whole programme in the fall elections? We are just coming to a hot fight in several states and there are several splendid chances to try the new scheme No man must make a speech no man must contribute a cent no editor must get excited Simply select your candidates, let the people know who they are let them provide their own ballots and walk up and elect the man of their choice This is the utopian mugwumpian theory This is the new dispensation Why not try it this fall?

The Brooklyn Eagle, a well-known and thoroughly representative democratic journal, referring to the mugwump Evening Post's congratulatory remarks on the retention of a number of republican employes in the office of secretary of state and other departments at Washington, says

What a pity it must seem to the Post that Mr Cleveland after having inexcusably succeeded Gen Arthur then went to the point of relieving Mr Frelinghuysen to make room for Mr Bayard, of relieving Mr Lincoln to make room for Mr Endicott and of relieving Mr Chandler to make room for Mr Whitney The subordinates are retained Why were the heads or figureheads removed?

The New York World quoting this, gives it highest approval, and adds that the Eagle might have carried its argument further Why, it asks, "should Mr Phelps have supplanted Mr Lowell Mr Pendleton have been put in Mr Kasson's place Mr Lathrop have thrust aside Mr. Taft, and Mr Isaac Bell, Jr, have superseded Mr Dayton? Why should Collector Robertson have been made to give way to obscure Mr Hedden Mr Benedict to Mr Beattie, and Gen Graham to Mr Burt?" We add a further extract from the World

If it is antagonism to civil service reform to make "a single partisan change" among the employes of any of the government departments why not equally so to remove the heads? And as far as practical use so far as a change of policies and methods is concerned a change of the heads of departments if the entire working force is to be kept as it was It is indeed a novel theory that non partisan civil service reform demands the retention in the hot part of one party in office to the exclusion [illegible] opponents

We come now to the subject from another side, by noting an address containing a series of inquiries put by Chairman Harrison of the Connecticut republican state committee to leading republicans of that state who voted against Mr Blaine, because of their apprehension that his administration might not come up to their requirements on the subject of civil service reform The most important of these suggestive and searching questions are the following, to wit

Is it honest civil service reform to remove Mr Sperry from the postoffice at New Haven Mr Beers from the collectorship of the port Col Sheldon from the internal revenue department Col Dickinson from the postoffice at Hartford Col Merritt from the consulate general at London and Gov Packard from Liverpool

The New York Sun, which supports the administration but demands all the offices for democrats, is quick to recognize the pertinence and importance of these inquiries, which, with variations as to names and places might be applied to removals and appointments that have been and are being made every day in every state It frankly answers Mr Harrison's question, "Is this honest civil service reform?" by saying

That depends on how you look at it If viewed purely from the standpoint of the independent reformers who think that tenure of office should not be influenced by politics we should say it wasn't honest civil service reform but when considered by the declaration upon that subject adopted by the national democratic convention of 1884, it is reform of the most approved and orthodox kind The Chicago democratic convention resolved that "we favor an honest civil service reform" That was all they had to say on the subject and the reform illustrated by the removal of the New Haven postmaster and the consul general at London is precisely what the democratic convention intended and what the people voted to accomplish in 1884 And the more of it the better

No one doubts that this expresses the sentiment of the democratic party It is apparent, therefore, that if civil service reform is to be pushed to the extent of making the body of the service non partisan and keeping it so that result is not to be gained through the party that now controls the national administration But it would be wrong and misleading to intimate that the republican party is wholly devoted to the reform It certainly is not But it contains a larger number of persons who are devoted to it and who will push it along than the democratic party contains, and it will be much easier for them now than formerly to get expression from their party in that behalf, because their party is now out of power If this is to be one of the issues of future political contests, the republicans may, if they will, have a pronounced advantage upon it.

There are two articles in the August and September numbers of the [illegible] Monthly, by Dr Mary Putnam Jacobi, entitled "An Experiment in Primary Education," which every school teacher should read Of course much that is proper in the methods of teaching cannot be put into practice in crowded school rooms as now arranged But still every teacher should know how things should be done and conform as nearly as possible to the best methods, which after all are only the suggestions which nature gives It is true we cannot conform our actions in politics or morals to any scientific, fundamental law, but we should know what that law is, and follow it as far as our environment, moral and intellectual will permit. So it is in teaching Find out what the fundamental law of mental growth is, and then make the most out of it possible We allude to these two articles because they are suggestive and will open the eyes of the half educated teachers to their limitations and bad methods.

Gen Fitzhugh Lee, democratic candidate for the governorship of Virginia, is talking in a manner that makes the mugwumps wince. Against the recent decision of the United States court on the Virginia debt, he enters a protest, declaring the decision "a bold usurpation," and appealing to "state sovereignty" against it. The Boston Advertiser makes Lee's speech the text of an editorial, saying "Now that the supreme court has decided that Virginia can be held to some of the promises she has broken so shamelessly, Gen. Lee seeks the reversal of the decision by some means or other, in order that his state may plunge still deeper into humiliation and bankruptcy" Further, it says "We do not suppose that Gen. Lee would counsel open resistance to the United States, the day for that has gone by, but there are other measures quite as effectual. Perhaps he would swamp the court by the creation of new judges; perhaps he would make congress or the president the means to carry out its decrees. In whatever way the decision is nullified, the result is much the same" It appears, then, that Mahone is not the only bad man of Virginia. This is a sad outcome for those who have been commending the democratic party of Virginia as the embodiment of "respectability" and "honesty" there, and expressing a hope that the republican party in Virginia, under the leadership of Mahone, would be utterly overthrown, on account of its "dishonest" position in regard to the debt of the state Mahone at least is not appealing to "state sovereignty" as a means of overthrowing the judicial authority of the United States

The Central Pacific appears to be acting in an obstinate manner at the transcontinental meeting at St Paul The Pioneer Press thus explains

The Central Pacific [illegible] with [illegible] and resentful [illegible] the hard terms imposed upon it by the Union Pacific when that railroad furnished its only eastern outlet, Having provided itself with other [illegible] communication with the [illegible] it has shown a disposition to punish the Union Pacific severely for its past offenses by rate discriminations in favor of the other lines If this unpleasantness shall not be composed at the meeting there will be one of the fiercest and most deadly railroad wars between these giant corporations which has ever been waged on this continent The Northern Pacific would of course suffer somewhat from the truculent rate cutting that would ensue but it is so remote from the immediate theater where the conflicting interests are at war that it would suffer much less than the other Pacific roads

It is stated at Washington that the civil service commission will ask congress to put the railway mail service, with its 4400 employes, under the civil service law Here, if anywhere, the civil service rules ought to be applied and enforced The work requires special training, and appointments in it ought to be removed from politics and favoritism. This branch of the public service has been more abused by political bosses than almost any other Oregon has furnished many examples though we believe now that the handling of the railway mails in our state is mainly in efficient hands

This sneer at the mugwumps is from the Boston Globe, and it epitomizes what all the democratic organs are saying

No man must make a speech, no man must contribute a cent, no editor must get excited Simply elect your candidates, let the people know who they are, let them provide their own ballots and walk up and elect them of their choice This is the utopian mugwumpian theory This is the new dispensation, why not try it this fall?

The mugwumps have taken charge of the democratic party in Massachusetts The Boston Journal says

The average democratic worker quietly informs you that he does not propose to get excited during the pending campaign in Massachusetts, and intimates that it is possible he may be too feeble to reach the polls election day unless the mugwump managers of his party send a carriage after him

---

Nothing more simple, direct, forcible and eloquent upon electoral outrages at the South has ever been uttered than the resolution of the republican state convention of Mississippi not to nominate a ticket. "Opposition," they say, "is useless," because of "the well known impossibility of securing at the polls an honest election" That tells it all

---

The discovery that democratic senators and representatives have requested the retention of republicans in the departments at Washington is creating a commotion in democratic circles, and the Atlanta Constitution predicts that there will be a sensation when the whole truth becomes known

---

The Northern Pacific bridge over the Mississippi just below the falls at Minneapolis will be completed by the middle of December Its cost is $250,000

If anybody thinks this a dull, lifeless community, he ought to note the interest taken in a horse race or prize fight, and stand corrected

THE YACHT RACE

Gossip About the Puritan—How She Looked in the Dry Dock.

New York Tribune Sept 5

As many people as could crowd into the small yard surrounding the small screw dock north of Roosevelt street ferry went there yesterday morning to see the Yankee sloop Puritan as she gradually rose out of the water When the cradle was entirely free of water all the Puritan's lines could be seen [illegible] there were many expressions of admiration at the strength and beauty of her form Those who have been howling that she was [illegible] but a cutter had only to look at her to see that she was a sloop fair and true Her model is not like anything ever seen before but with the exception of her overhanging stern there is nothing to suggest the cutter She resembles more than anything else a reformed and regenerated down East [illegible] fisher

One noticeable thing about her was her fullness in the harpings That is what gives her power to carry her press of heads all in heavy weather without burying her bowsprit. The sternpost of the Puritan rakes but little and she has a great rudder that swells up into a rounded shoulder As soon as the water was out of the dock the men began [illegible] her bottom

It is no wonder that the betting has veered around in the races for the America's cup and that takers are not easily found even with odds of two to one on the Puritan The Yankee sloop is the only yacht we know of that has made it [illegible] miles in [illegible] [illegible] minutes There is reason to believe that when Mr Lewis W [illegible] sent his first [illegible] of his intention to challenge for the [illegible] in the early part of last December he had [illegible] [illegible] a spirit of bravado would build [illegible] to [illegible] his cutter Yachtsmen [illegible] justified in the shrewd suspicion that a cutter that he expected to meet no more formidable rival than the [illegible] the Pappoose or the Mischief [illegible] there are those who say that Mr. Beaver Webb was apprised by the "cutter crazy" element of the New York Yacht club that this was a favorable time for him to wrest the old trophy away and that he only sent his challenge after a careful review of the situation here had been made for him by his agents

Bill Nye in Boston Globe

He slept days and made up berths at night. Truly he began making up berths at Jersey City and when he got through about daylight it was time to begin to unmake them again All night I could hear him opening and shutting the berths like a concertina He sang softly as I [illegible] all night long

You must camp a little in the wilderness
And then we'll all go home

And played his own accompaniment on the berth

When in repose he was generally asleep with a whisk broom in one hand and the other hand extended with the palm up waiting for a dividend to be declared He generally slept with his mouth open so that you could read his inmost thoughts and when I complained to him about the way my bunk felt he said he was sorry and wanted to know which one I was in

Democratic Reform Promises Interpreted

New York Sun (Ind Dem)

The Chicago democratic convention resolved that we favor an honest civil service reform" That was all they had to say on the subject, and the reform illustrated by the removal of the New Haven postmaster and the consul general at London is precisely what the democratic convention intended and what the people voted to accomplish in 1884. And the more of it the better

TARIFF REDUCTION.

The Democratic Programme for an Onslaught on the Customs.

Washington Letter to Philadelphia Press.

From what I gather here from the most reliable authorities the views of the administration on the subject of tariff revision may be stated as follows

1 The reduction of the revenue at least $30 000 000 and perhaps $40 000 000

2 The reduction of the rates of duty in accordance with this

3 Intense anxiety to revive the drooping industries of the country

How to effect this puzzles the most astute The representatives of the industrial interests embracing iron and steel, wool growing and manufacturing, textile machinery, chemical manufacturing, silk and paper making, etc in their reports to the treasury department greatly [illegible] frankly [illegible] and will frankly [illegible] the secretary that they can not under the existing condition of distress and the amount of [illegible] arising therefrom submit to any reduction of duties They further claim that any lowering or the [illegible] reduction of the present rates of duty will [illegible] of reducing the revenue increase it

The manufacturers take strong ground [illegible] anything approaching revision of tariff It will be found they say by careful investigation of the subject that the United States cannot wisely enter [illegible] what might be called a revenue tariff system [illegible] it enter upon one that upholds the tariff for revenue with incidental protection Only one of two courses is possible protection for protection's sake, all it you wish, or protection or [illegible] radical free trade based on the tariff system of Great Britain

There is no middle ground where the two systems can meet and the sooner the administration and Mr Randall if their anxiety to revive the drooping industries of the country is sincere abandon the scheme of bringing the two ends of the party together on this question the better The representatives of every important industry will be in a position to prove even to the satisfaction of a democratic administration that the present condition of the affairs of the country renders any revision of the tariff at the present time unwise and dangerous

A NEW FREE LIST

Should the administration be convinced that a bill reducing duties all around would fail of support it is said by those who know that a bill looking to making raw material and food products free will be proposed It has been stated here by prominent democrats that the duties now levied on raw sugar may be so modified as to cause a reduction of the revenue from this one source of $5 000 000 and more over that the sugar men have practically consented to this It is not, therefore improbable that a direct attack will be made on the tariff in the direction of raw material and food products, including a reduction of either $5 000 000 or $10 000 000 on sugar The leading democratic free trade papers are advocating a revision of this sort and some of them are already committed on the items which it is proposed to put on the free list. It is also understood that such a revision would be more acceptable to the radical wing of the party because many of them think that a more effectual blow would thus be struck at the principle of protection which would result as they hope in a complete overthrow of the tariff Below I present a list of the articles that will probably be placed on the free list, with the amount of duty collected therefrom for the year ending June 30 1884

Clay	14 870 [illegible]
Coal	[illegible]
Flax hemp jute etc	[illegible]
Ore	421 493 40
Total.	$16,120,[illegible] 18
Sugar (probably)	5 000 000 00
Wool (probably)	4 4[illegible] 361 00
	$[illegible] 21 18

FIVE OR TEN MILLIONS ON SUGAR

Should the sugar men be willing to stand a $5 000 000 reduction it is not improbable that they may have to stand nearly $10 000 000 which with wool on the free list will bring up the reduction to the maximum amount $40 000 000 It will be urged that this form of reduction will have the effect of reviving the drooping industries of the country because it makes free important raw material and food product The manufacturers will be appealed to on the one side and the workingmen on the other It will cheapen the cost of provisions it will be urged Why should the great food producing country of the world require duty on food products It is ridiculous as the Slugger Sullivan asking to be protected against any weak [illegible] he claimed beyond all [illegible]

The proposition which is fast gaining the support of the democratic journals will most largely affect the states of New York Delaware Maryland Louisiana Virginia Georgia Florida and the states of the Pacific coast The orange and lemon growers of Florida would be brought into direct competition with the people of the Mediterranean The removal of the duty on rice would interest the states of South Carolina and Georgia and bring them into direct competition with the cheap labor of eastern countries It is however thought that the success of the great economic principles for which the southern people are contending will allay all opposition from that quarter and that they are sure looking to the freeing of raw material and food products from what the democrats call taxes will be [illegible] irrespective of locality Should the proposal for free wool be successful—and this has been [illegible] urged by some of the most prominent and influential members of the democratic party of course the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania will be the greatest sufferers

WOOL AND THE OHIO ELECTION

The plan is however to lay low on the wool question until after the Ohio election If the democrats win they will feel emboldened to grant the [illegible] of party leaders and to put wool on the free list If they do not the Ohio democrats many of whom are opposed to putting wool on the free list will probably be able to persuade their party to go slow on the wool question

This programme, it is thought will meet the hearty support of the mugwump element of the democratic party, for they have been demanding free raw material and food product for some time Having accomplished this much and thus lessened it as they will claim the cost of the primary articles of food and raw material It is the intention of the democrats to turn their attention to manufactured goods In this attack the leaders now urging the scheme given above say their hands will be strengthened from the fact that the wool growers will have been crushed out and cannot join the manufacturers Moreover that the south will have [illegible] that profit [illegible] by giving it the duty on rice from one [illegible] sumac and other [illegible] manufactured mineral and vegetable products

BRIEF MENTION

Prof. B. Frank Walters and family, recently of Philadelphia, will sing at the Baptist church to-morrow night.

All the smoke along the coast has disappeared and the grain fleet will not be bothered hereafter in finding the Columbia river.

The school board has granted George Steel permission to hold civil service examinations at the High school building on the 19th.

The German Catholics of this city have purchased a lot at the corner of Fourteenth and C streets and will soon erect a church thereon.

Geo. A. Van Horn, is very ill at Independence and is very desirous of communicating with his father D. Van Horn, who is traveling somewhere in this state.

L. Justin of the Cascades was in the city yesterday. He reports that the rain up there Wednesday and Thursday was the heaviest he has seen during a five years' residence there.

John Winters, one of the clerks at steamship dock, died at St. Vincent's hospital yesterday morning from the effects of a surgical operation for hernia, which he underwent last Sunday. He had lived here a number of years, and had many friends among the Grand Army of the Republic, of which he was a member.

A telephone message was received at the police station about 2 o'clock this morning for a policeman to come out to S street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, as a man had been robbed. About 3 o'clock word was telephoned in that a freight car had been broken into at the N. P. freight depot. Up to the hour of going to press nothing further had been learned of these matters.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. William Warner, now of Albany, is in the city.

Mr. John Crum will return to-day over the Northern from New York.

Hon. H. H. Gilfry is in the city. He will leave for the east over the Short Line.

Charles Ohle came up from the seaside yesterday. He has stowed away ozone enough to last him till next summer.

Mr. Duncan Taylor, of Liverpool, England, is here on a visit to his brother, Mr. George M. Taylor of the firm of Taylor, Young & Co. He will remain here some months.

Lieuts. Dorrier, Bethel and Clarke, and Mr. A. Moore, chief engineer of the flagship Swiftsure, now at Victoria, left here yesterday over the Northern Pacific, enroute to England.

Mr. Willis A. Wilcox and bride (Miss Nettie B. Seeley of Sacramento) arrived Thursday from California, having finished their wedding tour. Their home is at 283 E street, and they will receive Thursdays in October.

SUED FOR TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

W. J. Quinn brings suit against a well known merchant. Last week the merchant entered the establishment of W. J. Quinn, and remarked that he wanted a ready made coat and vest and the pants to order. The day following he called for the suit and paid $40 and departed well pleased. He meets a friend who naturally inquired "Where did you get your suit made?" "At Quinn's," was the prompt answer "and I paid only $40 for it." The other said, "I paid $85 for mine in New York and it don't fit at all. Quinn has the best cutter and don't you let that drop from your memory."

The various conveniences offered to travelers as well as all residents of the city by the O. C. & T. Co., should meet with hearty appreciation. They check baggage at residences for any destination, and have first-class carriages in readiness at all hours. Ladies making calls are furnished with footmen and most experienced drivers.

Thirty five dollars will buy a handsome ash bedroom set with square bevel glass, combination washstand, at G. Shindler & Co. 166 First.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

NEW ART DESIGNS.—Mrs. Cora Scott, whose artistic work in decorated china and decorative work generally, attracted so much attention from connoiseurs last winter, has recently returned from San Francisco with new designs. Among the novelties is an Italian head in Sepia, a new and remarkably attractive shade of brown. Then there is an ideal portrait on china surrounded by daisies—a design that can be used charmingly with family portraits. A screen of antique design, in a gothic frame, one pane enclosing hydrangea, another enclosing tiera Pondia, and a third, hollyhock—is one of the handsomest household ornaments imaginable. In repousse work, there is a classic head, showing platinum, silver and copper shades, surrounded by a dozen iridescent shades beautifully mingled, the whole surrounded by a turquoise plush frame. Half a dozen new shades in hammered brass are shown. To those interested in the art which Mrs. Scott teaches, a visit to her "work-shop" must prove very pleasant. Visitors will be welcomed from 2 to 4 P. M.

GAME MATTERS.—At the annual meeting of the Multnomah Rod and Gun club held last evening Judge J. W. Whalley was unanimously re-elected president, Mr. Frank Abell was elected vice president, and Mr. H. G. Macdonald was unanimously re-elected secretary. The annual hunt of the club was set for October 11. David Morris and Frank Abell were elected captains of opposing sides who shall choose members for the hunt. All the game killed in excess of what the club will require for its annual dinner will be distributed among the various charitable institutions of the city. In connection with this it may be stated that the latest advices from Protection island are to the effect that the imported game birds from China which were placed there in the spring, are increasing rapidly. Of the many different varieties, the silver pheasant, which embraced but two pair, now has one large brood.

BILLS OF LADING TO ENGLAND.—Wednesday of this week the Northern Pacific railroad company issued the first bill of lading from the Pacific coast to a foreign port. It was issued by the agent at Puyallup, W. T., to E. Meeker & Co., for seventy bales (12,156 pounds) hops consigned to E. Meeker & Co., care Lindsay, Bird & Co., London, via Liverpool, per the White Star Steamship company. Another bill of lading was issued on the 10th inst. to the same parties by the agent at Lake View. These bills of lading are treated by the mercantile community just as warehouse receipts are, and may be used as collaterals. The Northern Pacific propose to treat shipments from Portland in the same way, taking up the Oregon Railway & Navigation company's bills of lading, and issuing their own through bills instead.

THE MAN WHO NAMED OREGON FIRS.—There has been so much said of late concerning the Douglas fir that Rev. J. L. Parrish, of Salem, sends the following in regard to the botanist for whom it was named: "Mr. Douglas was sent out here by the Royal Botanical society of England in about 1838. He traveled extensively through this country and in 1839 left for England stopping at the Sandwich islands and also visiting the island of Otehaite. He accidentally fell into a bull pit and was killed by a wild bull about March, 1839." In regard to the seeds desired for shipment to Germany Mr. Parrish advises that the seeds be shipped in the cones as, although they will occupy much more space, they will be more certain to germinate.

RACES POSTPONED.—A heavy rain Thursday night made the track at City View park so muddy that running horses over it was considered too dangerous and the races were postponed. The weather continues unsettled and there will be no races to-day except perhaps the postponed half mile dash, and this is very doubtful. No arrangements can be made, so long as the weather does not change, as to the events advertised for Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Possibly they will take place next week, and it may be there will be a general postponement until after the state fair. All the owners of stock now at the park are anxious to run their horses here, and everything depends on the weather.

ANOTHER WHARF ON THE EAST SIDE.—Yesterday bids for the construction of Mrs. F. Irving's wharf and warehouse, to be erected on her river front on the east side, were opened in Warren S. White's office. The following are the bids: J. E. Bennett, $21,500; N. I. Bingen, $22,500; John Robinson, $23,900; Pacquet & Smith, $22,980; Frank Irving, $22,100; Hoffman & Bates, $21,21 ; J. E. Smith, $19,210; Portland Construction company, $25,400. The contract was awarded to Joseph E. Smith, and the work will be commenced immediately and pushed to completion as fast as possible.

EXTENSIVE COAL FIND.—Dr. Aug. C. Kinney writes to the Astorian that there is probably the most extensive bed of coal in the northwest in the Nehalem valley. R. D. Cole has measured the vein, which is eight feet, eight inches in thickness. Dr. Kinney says: "There is not in my opinion a railroad in all Oregon that has paid or can pay its owners so well as a railroad to be built from Astoria out to the Nehalem to carry this timber and coal out to Astoria and thence to San Francisco and the number of other markets bordering on the Pacific ocean."

RATE ON GRAIN REDUCED.—R. Koehler and F. P. Rogers have issued the following circular under date of September 10: "The rate upon barley in car loads from all points south of and including Yoncalla, to Portland is hereby reduced to 25 cents per hundred pounds, and upon wheat, flour and millstuffs, in car loads, from all points south of and including Nichols to Portland, to 30 cents per hundred pounds, to remain in force until further notice. These rates subject to change. Notice of change will be given fifteen days prior to the time of its taking effect."

DROWNING MEN RESCUED.—On Thursday afternoon two men employed on the government works at Fort Stevens were upset out of a boat. The tide was running out and they were drawn under a barge, coming to the surface about 100 feet below. Mr. Foster, formerly of Albany, and another man jumped into a boat and succeeded in reaching them before they were exhausted and hauled them aboard. So strong was the tide that the boat was obliged to land about a quarter of a mile below the works. The boat from which they were upset drifted out to sea.

SETTING THE FASHION HERE.—Travelers who visit this city seem greatly to admire the richfurs to be found here. This being the far West and formerly the land of the trapper and voyageur, who used furs for currency, it is naturally expected that more and better furs should be found here than at the East. A gentleman yesterday made considerable purchases of fine fur trimmings from a local dealer to send to lady friends in Paris, he having greatly admired the fur trimmings worn by ladies here. In this case Portland sets the fashion for Paris.

POOR OUTLOOK FOR THE HOG PRODUCT.—The outlook at this fall for hog raisers is rather gloomy. There is a great deal of bacon and other hog products left over from last year and park packers are all complaining of having lost money. They did not pay any very extravagant prices for the raw material, but they say they will not be able to pay so much this year. So hog killing has not yet commenced, and spareribs and tenderloins are things unknown in the market.

A COUNTER STATEMENT.—Policeman Murray, of Vancouver, says that the account published on Thursday of his affair with Ed. Magee, of that place, does him injustice. He didn't knock Magee down, and hasn't been deprived of his star. Nor did he fire several shots, but only one. Magee, he says, is likewise under bonds for his appearance at court, but on a charge of another kind.

ENORMOUS PEACHES.—By all odds the largest peaches we have ever seen are specimens of the "Goodyear cling," grown by Robert Goodyear, nurseryman, of Ashland, Jackson county. Four received at this office measured eleven inches each in circumference. We are indebted to Mr. N. B. Crane, railway postal clerk for their safe delivery.

TO CONFER THE PALLIUM.—His Grace Archbishop Gross leaves for San Francisco on Monday to assist in the ceremony of conferring the pallium on Archbishop Riordan. Archbishop Gross has been honored by being selected to preach the sermon upon that occasion. He will be accompanied by a number of the clergy of this diocese.

FINE RECORD.—The Columbia arrived here at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. This is the 112d voyage of that magnificent steamer to this port, and in all the time she has been in service between San Francisco and Portland she has been kept out three nights only once. She has made 121 consecutive trips when she was at sea but two nights.

THE STAGE.

CASINO.—The advance sale of seats for the Wallack farewell week at the Casino is very large, probably the best in the history of the house. Many seats for the different evenings are being sold to theater parties, and the indications are the company's reception will be very enthusiastic, and the audiences will be made up of our most fashionable people. Miss Ollie Torbett's selections will be entirely different from those she played at the Kellogg concert.

SCHOOL BOARD.

Financial Troubles of the Contractor of the New High School Building—Routine Business

A regular meeting of the board of school directors was held last evening at the office of Superintendent Crawford, in the new high school building, where, by resolution of the board their future meetings will be held.

The chair was occupied by President Versteeg, and Messrs. Dodd, Wilson, Thompson and Wasserman were present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. L. Stevens, offering to supply iron fence or anything in that line needed by the board, at lowest rates.

From C. A. Malarkey, A. E. Raleigh, A. J. Knott, Thomas Huntington and John Clark sureties on De Burgh's bond, informing the board that Charles De Burgh had transferred and assigned to them all moneys due or to become due from school district No. 1 on his contract, and for all extra work done by him. Filed.

From Misses Ann and Mina Tregallas and Mrs. M. L. Wilson, applying for positions as teachers.

On motion the board ratified the warrants issued since last meeting.

On motion Mrs. Esker, Miss Sabin, Miss Hill and Miss Atwood were excused from the annual meeting.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Ira Goodnough	$150 00	Smith [illegible]	[illegible]
Gas	15 00	Swope & Taylor	[illegible]
W. O. Allen	25 00	Olds & King	[illegible]

Telephone Co	30 00	M. M. Hlesey	1 4
Janitors	460 00	Janitor's ass't	5 50

Prof. Warren submitted a report of the assignment of classes to the different teachers in the Park street school.

Some little discussion followed concerning the Latin classes.

Mr. Thompson stated that he considered that Latin and German had no business in the public school studies and he intended to file his protest against them on every opportunity.

A written permission from the contractor was presented allowing the board to hold school in such rooms of the building as were cleaned.

A report from the attorney of the Bank of British Columbia was read, in regard to procuring a loan for carrying on the work. He was of the opinion that the district had no right to make a loan, but had a right to assign or pledge the taxes for the money to pay teachers, etc. The matter was referred to Messrs. Dodd and Thompson, to make such arrangements as they deemed best.

Mr. Dodd stated that he had been informed that contractor DeBurgh would have to quit work to-day on account of financial embarrassment. In such case the directors will proceed to complete the High school building.

The chairman was authorized to employ a night watchman for the High school building until its completion. Adjourned.

FATAL FALL.

James Brennan a Tinsmith, Slips while at Work and Receives Fatal Injuries

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a fatal accident occurred in the rear of the St. Louis hotel on the west side of First street, near Taylor. One of the tin gutters having choked up, B. Gaken, proprietor of the hotel, engaged James Brennan and Louis Hodson to repair it. Their first work was to loosen the pipe. A hook which held it was withdrawn by Hodson. Brennan was standing on a balcony about fourteen feet from the ground and leaned over the railing to take hold of the pipe, when he lost his balance and fell head foremost to the ground. His head struck the edge of a large three cornered piece of stove wood, and his skull was crushed in in a frightful manner. Death ensued in about ten minutes. The accident was seen by Mr. Gaken and Brennan's fellow workman.

Coroner Cooke was notified, took charge of the body, and held an inquest. The testimony of Dr. C. P. S. Plummer and B. Gaken was received. Hodson, after the accident, got drunk and was so much under the influence of liquor when he appeared at the coroner's office, that he had to be ordered away. Brennan was aged about 35 years. He was raised in San Francisco where his mother and sister now reside. He had lived in Portland about six years, working for F. C. Bayer until a few weeks ago. The body will probably be sent to San Francisco for burial.

THE FIGHT TO-DAY.

Pools were sold for several hours last evening at Joe Taylor's saloon, on the Campbell-Reilly fight, which drew several hundred persons. So great was the rush that it was almost impossible to squeeze a passage into the bar room or the billiard room adjoining. All about the doors, on the sidewalks and even out into the streets scores collected, either endeavoring to get into where the pools were being vended or discussing in eager and excited tones the pending fight. For a time pools sold in favor of Reilly, in the proportion of 10 to 8. Later on the tide shifted around and Campbell took the lead, the pools selling 10 to 8 in his favor. About $1000 went into the pool box. The crowd collected in the saloon and gathered about the pool seller was not by any means composed entirely of the sporting fraternity or rougher element, but among them were seen a number of merchants, professional men and clerks. Two boats left the city this morning about 3 o'clock for the scene of the fight. One was the Salem to which was attached a large barge, and the other was the Lucca Mason. Each boat carried away a big crowd. It is estimated between 600 and 1000 persons will witness the fight. It is stated that the spot for the match has not been selected yet, that when the boat carrying the pugilists, reaches the mouth of the Willamette the manager of the affair will toss up heads or tails to decide whether the steamer will turn up the Columbia and land at some point beyond Vancouver or land below on the Washington territory side. The scene of the fight is expected to be reached in time for all preliminaries to be arranged and the real business to begin soon afterdaylight. A full account of the fight will appear in the Evening Telegram.

THE EXCURSION EAST

Very Important to the Traveling Public

Parties intending to go East with the so-called excursion party of Powers and Gilman will serve their interests in every way by calling at the Northern Pacific Short Line, No. 1, Washington street. [illegible] in a manner will [illegible] all the parties [illegible] represent to people [illegible] is only to realize [illegible] agent's office and secure the advantages for yourself that will accrue to those outside of middle men. Do not fail to call and be convinced that you are being imposed upon.

The above item is a very weak attempt at a game of bluff characteristic of its author whose identity is manifest.

Parties who were imposed upon by paying higher rates than tariff and grossly deceived in the style of the accommodations advertised and furnished for the excursion over the Northern Pacific railroad May 20th, will hardly either go themselves or recommend their friends to apply to the same office.

Now for reliable information, or, to serve as our own miter stone in every way, as it were, we cannot commend to the public favor any one who will steal his neighbor's trade mark (Short Line) to deceive the public and enhance his own interests.

Persons intending to accompany our party can now call at the Oregon Short Line office, No. 1, Washington street, and obtain their tickets good for Tuesday. Full and reliable information will also be given.

J. M. GILMAN,
W. C. POWERS.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Persons desiring to accompany the special party advertised by Powers & Gilman to leave Portland Tuesday September 15th, are assured that any promises made by them will be recognized by the company.

We guarantee that no premium money will be exacted and further guarantee that the rates will in no case be higher than those charged by any other line. The accommodations will be complete. It will be advisable to make application without further delay to secure location in car.

B. CAMPBELL,
General Agent Oregon Short Line.

IMPORTANT TO THE LADIES.

Wiebing & Hollabaugh, Fourth and Morrison have bought a line of samples consisting of 85 stylish fall and winter cloaks made by the famous Springer Bros., Boston. These fine cloaks will be sold at much lower prices than usual.

FREE.—A pocket mirror and pin cushion will be presented with five "Tansill's Punch" five-cent cigars at Plummer & Byerley's drug store, southwest corner First and Main streets, this week.

THE COURTS.

The Old Jefferson Street Improvement Declared Faulty.

The Daily Divorce Granted—The Albina Ferry Again Changes Hands—The County Court Investigating the Poor Farm, etc.

Judge Stearns rendered a decision yesterday in department No. 2 of the state circuit court, in the case of David Monastes and others against the city of Portland. The action was brought to enjoin the city from collecting certain assessments for the improvement of Jefferson street, on the ground that the work had not been done according to contract, although accepted by the city, and that property owners should not be compelled to pay for faulty construction. The plaintiff alleged among other things that the rock used in the improvement was not of the right kind or size, the manner in which the improvement was laid was bad and the work generally was slightingly done. A temporary injunction was granted at the last term of court.

Judge Stearns' decision is in favor of the plaintiffs to the amount of one-half the sum which they were assessed by the city. Upon the payment of this one-half the injunction upon the city will be made perpetual. As the contractor has already received his pay out of the general fund the city will be the loser. There are a number of similar suits still pending and the city is liable to have similar deficits in its accounts when these suits are finally settled.

AN INSANE MAN'S NOTE

James Steel began suit yesterday in the state circuit court against Lillie A. James, guardian of the estate of George V. James, to secure the acceptance of a note, given by Mr. James, in part payment for property on which Mr. Steel has already made other payments. The property is the block bounded by North Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets and H and I streets. In February of last year Mr. James was examined and found to be insane and by Judge Stearns was committed to the asylum. Henry Failing was first appointed guardian of the property of Mr. James, but declined to serve. Mrs. Lillie James was then selected as a fit person to be the guardian of the property and was appointed to that position.

The plaintiff prays for a decree commanding the guardian to accept the note of her husband for $6000, in part payment of the amount due on said property and to execute a good and sufficient deed to Mr. Steel of the property in question on the receipt of the note and the balance of money due on the property.

DIVORCE MATTERS

Mrs. Jemima C. Lawrence was yesterday granted a divorce by Judge Stearns from her husband, J. R. Lawrence, with the further privilege of resuming her maiden name Jemima Blies. She was also awarded the possession of lots 5 and 6 in block 154 in this city, which she showed was bought by her husband with her money. The parties were married in this city in 18 , and the husband deserted his wife in 1878.

The defendants in the divorce suits of Mary Raywood against George Raywood and Maria Hightower against Sebra Hightower were yesterday declared to be in default and both cases were referred to N. D. Simon to take testimony and report the facts.

THE ALBINA FERRY

The Multnomah Railway Company Assign Their Interest to Messrs. Foster and Knott—The County Court Notified

The Multnomah Railway company who became by purchase at sheriff's sale the sole owners of the Albina ferry, have sold the same to W. H. Foster and A. J. Knott. In the state circuit court yesterday the Multnomah company was winding up its affairs. Judge Stearns made an order that the reports and accounts of N. H. Lane, receiver, be approved and allowed, that the receiver pay and deliver to the railway company all money and property in his hands as receiver and take receipt therefor, and provided for his discharge and the discharge of his bondsmen on the filing of such receipt.

In the county court Messrs. Foster and Knott filed a petition before the commissioners to operate said ferry. They state the various changes in ownership since the original license was granted for the establishing of a ferry at that point, and ask the court to assent to the transfers and to accept a bond that they will keep and run said ferry according to law upon the same terms as have heretofore been required of their predecessors.

It is well known that this property is becoming very valuable and is sure to increase as time goes on. None of the owners has yet had peaceful possession and according to the present outlook no one is likely to have for some time to come. Possibly that is the reason why the Multnomah company has disposed of its interest.

POLICE COURT

Ed. Knox was arraigned before Judge S. A. Moreland in the police court yesterday, charged with the crime of mayhem, in having broken and otherwise disfigured the nose of Mrs. Lizzie Smallbones in a saloon on the corner of Front and Main streets. Knox pleaded not guilty and asked a continuance until to-day in order that he might send for a lawyer, which request was granted him.

The case against Charles Wallace alias Magintie for breaking a pitcher over the head of Frank Wall, was again continued, Wall being still unable to appear. He was visited at his bedside yesterday by Judge Moreland and swore to a complaint against his assailant. It was reported last evening that Wall was dying but his case is not wholly hopeless.

THE POOR FARM

County Judge Moreland and commissioners Newell and Corbett have visited the county poor farm, making a thorough personal examination of its condition and the manner in which it is run. They will make a report, it is understood in a short time to the public. The proposition from C. M. Patterson to take the farm for what he can make out of it, and some charges that have been made against Superintendent Cleghorn will also be considered.

COURT NOTES.

The county court has adjourned until Monday.

Ezra Haukhurst was yesterday held to answer to a charge of selling liquor to Indians.

Judge Seneca Smith returned yesterday from Astoria, and will be ready to open court on Monday.

Thomas Fox, indicted for larceny, and D. A. Richards for forgery, were arraigned yesterday in the state circuit court and allowed until Monday to plead.

The case of A. Y. Hamilton vs. E. R. Strong has been referred to R. M. Dement [illegible] [illegible] sale of certain real estate belonging to the plaintiff who died since the suit was begun.

Judge Frank J. Taylor returned to this city yesterday from Alkali, having closed the first session of the new court for Gilliam county. The opening of a state circuit court at Alkali was quite an event. A good deal of business was disposed of, but no very unusual cases were on the docket. There is no court house at Alkali, and a building had to be rented for use as a court house.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS

The Oregon Pottery company is somewhat amused but not dismayed at the incoherent efforts of certain importers of crockeryware in this city. It is a good sign that our work is being well done and that we are accomplishing what we set out to do viz: to supply the northwest with as good an article of stoneware made right here in Oregon from material found here, as can be produced in any country. When parties begin to strike out blindly in every direction wildly trying to sustain themselves it is an indication that they are rapidly sinking in the quicksands of disappointment and the more they wiggle the deeper they will sink until the ware they represent disappears from the market. In regard to "doctoring" Peoria ware to make it leak salt that is a mean thing to do for it does not require "doctoring" to make it leak. We beg our customers not to doctor Peoria ware to make it leak. If you must doctor it try to make it hold. The manufacturers have hard enough work trying to make it the only brine proof. Everybody can be their own doctors in this case. We give the formula without charge. Make a strong solution of salt and water put it into a butter pot or jar place the vessel in a dry place for a few weeks and observe the crystalized salt on the outer surface and then for an antidote call on the Oregon Pottery company or your ware which gives entire satisfaction being strong well glazed hard burned beautiful and cheap and by actual weight is the lightest in the market and has the advantage of being a home production.

Do not ask dealers in eastern wares where to find us or for our wares, but call on or address us directly as we handle our own stock.

SURGICAL APPOINTMENT.

Two or more surgeons from the State Surgical Dispensary, 334 Kearney street, San Francisco, Cal., will be at the St. Charles Hotel, Portland, from Wednesday September 16th to the 1st fully prepared to examine and commence the treatment of all cases in any way crippled or deformed, and all cases of suffering from any disease of the eye, ear nasal catarrh, and all chronic diseases. As this institution has unequaled facilities and experience in the treatment of the disease and disabilities to which it gives special attention. It would be well for all who are interested to avail themselves of this rare opportunity.

THE EAST SIDE.

BOARD OF FIRE DELEGATES.

The regular meeting of the board of fire delegates occurred at the council chamber last evening. President Cunningham being absent, A. H. McEwan was elected to the chair pro tem. W. H. Meade was noted absent. The following business was transacted.

Wm. Klump presented a bill of $161 for 151 badges, and H. H. Holmes one of $8.30 for salary as secretary. A warrant was ordered drawn in favor of Mr. Klump on account.

List of new members transferences and resignations were reported from Pioneer Grant and Relief companies. The reports were received and the secretary instructed to dispose of them according to law.

Secretary H. H. Holmes submitted the following report of all moneys collected and paid over to the treasurer up to date: For fines $1, for badges, $76 for certificates $39, total amount collected, $116. Referred to the auditing committee.

The constitution and by-laws of Relief company were submitted for consideration and referred to the committee on rules.

The committee on badges reported the receipt of 15 badges, according to contract, and the report was accepted and the committee discharged.

Wm. Halfpenny, Henry Meyer and W. A. Morris, the committee appointed for the purpose, recommended the following system of alarms:

"A ward alarm shall be by ringing the bell twice.

"A general alarm shall be by ringing the bell three times.

"If a ward alarm shall ring, only the company or companies in that ward shall respond.

If a general alarm shall ring in either the First or Fourth wards, only the companies of the Second ward shall go to their assistance unless by special order of the chief engineer.

"If a general alarm shall ring in the Second ward, the whole department shall respond."

The report was adopted, and the secretary instructed to furnish printed copies to the chief engineer to replace those now posted at the different engine houses.

The following communication was read from C. K. Cranston secretary of the Owl hose company:

To the Hon. A. Fire Delegate: In pursuance of your communication of August 20 a meeting of the proposed Owl hose company was called for Tuesday August 25 to consider the same. Although extensively advertised a quorum of members failed to respond but those present instructed me to answer you as follows: Owing to the seemingly unnecessary length of time that the matter of admission has been pending and also to the rather unexpected result which has finally been arrived at, the proposed organizers decline to have anything further to do with the matter. I may may add perhaps as my individual opinion that while the vote of a majority of members was not had, still from opinions I have heard expressed I think the foregoing is about the sentiment of all of the original petitioners.

A. H. McEwan gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would move to amend section 5 of article 1, by striking out the words "perfectly clear on the books" and inserting "not more than one dollar in arrears."

Upon inquiry, the secretary stated the president had been absent for three successive regular meetings. Adjourned.

BAD BOYS.

The other day several small boys went in bathing in a trough used for watering stock, on J. W. Shaver's place in the northern part of the city. To vary their diversion they indulged in the sport of throwing mud at one another, during which, it is alleged, one of their number named Asel Severance was struck in the mouth by a missile thrown by another named John Cox. He has been sick since the occurrence, and his ailment is attributed principally to it. His father, J. P. Severance, caused the arrest of young Cox for assault and battery, and he was arraigned before Justice Simpson yesterday when he pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for 10 o'clock this morning.

NOTES.

The estate of Mrs. Garrigan, in East Portland, real and personal, has been appraised at $7 (00)

J. F. Resing, of McMillan's addition, was the recipient of a pleasant surprise party last evening.

About twenty couples "surprised" G. F. Zorlies Thursday evening at his residence on Sixth street, between I and J, the occasion being his 40th birthday.

The store of Neppach & Fimpel was closed by the sheriff last evening on account of a delinquent note for two or three hundred dollars held by Joseph Paquet against John Neppach and William Underhill, which fell due last month. The matter will probably be adjusted this morning.

ONLY A FARMER'S DAUGHTER

This famous play, now in its eighth year of prosperity, will be the attraction next Monday night at the New Market theater. Blanche Curtisse, said to be the handsomest of all the celebrated stage beauties, will be supported by a company of rare merit. The complete cast is as follows:

Lizzie Stark
Mine. Laurent, the adventuress	Blanche Curtisse
Justine, the farmer's daughter	Etta Frank
Mother Stark of Poverty Hollow	Emma Frank
Molly, little Nelly's attendant	Beatrice [illegible]
Harold Lennox, the wealthy author	Olsen Arthur
Jack Hadley, the adventuress' accomplice
Philip Burton	Fred F. Stoddard
Sam, a Green Mountain lad	Otis Turner
Higgs, the butler	C. A. Collis
Keeper Taylor of Sing Sing	J. Hilton
Nelly, mamma's treasure	Little Minnie Crvin

Wheat at Thirty Shillings

Chicago Tribune, Sept. 7

No spring wheat was bought in this market last Saturday for export and sold by cable to Liverpool at 30 shillings and 6 pence per quarter of eight bushels. As our market subsequently touched a price ¾ cent below that at which the above noted purchase was made, it was possible at one time to buy wheat at a figure that would have permitted its sale to Liverpool at 30 shillings per quarter by dropping out a part of the commission at this point—as has often been done rather than lose business. That reduced sum is equal to 80 cents per bushel in England (as it includes cost freight and insurance) instead of the dollar per bushel which many people claim is a fair price for wheat in Chicago.

THE NEW MINES.

A Letter from the Oregonian's Special Correspondent

The Present Surface Development Shows all Conditions Absolutely Favorable—Etc., Etc.

PINE CREEK CAMP, Sept.

Of the trip to the mines and of the general aspects of the country hereabout I shall write in another letter devoting this which is written with some inconvenience upon the soft side of a bowlder to an account of the mines. Pine creek runs a full and swift stream through a canyon deeply shadowed by high mountains on either side and densely wooded. The heights west of the stream form a range running northwest and southeast after the manner of Oregon mountains rising in a succession of peaks. This camp is at the foot of the loftiest of these peaks which is locally and with propriety called Granite mountain. This mountain is a great dyke of granite between another and lesser granite dyke to the northwest and a slate dyke to the southeast. Through it runs a mineral belt and in this belt are found what within a few months have come to be called the Pine creek mines. The Granite mountain mines is the natural name and would be a name truthfully suggestive of the position and character of the district. Going west up the eastern slope of Granite mountain (which is about three miles with its base five distinct mineral ledges have been found and traced for a distance of one half a mile to two miles all lying parallel with the mountain and pitching into it westward at an angle of about forty five degrees. The lowest of these five ledges is about half a mile from the creek bed up the mountain side and the other four lie in shelves one above the other, the distance between them being about a quarter of a mile.

The ledges crop slightly but sufficiently to tell the their general course. So far as can be judged by surface lines they are well defined. They cut the country rock sharply running parallel with it. The third or middle ledge is remarkably defined to lowing the mountain side as distinctly as a path. The foot wall is of clay and the hanging wall quartz joined with granite. The length of the ore shoots in these ledges cannot be estimated, because no drifts to speak of have been run. The width of the veins is from ten inches to five feet, the measurement in most of the prospects being from thirty to thirty-six inches. The distinguishing feature of the leads is their absolutely compact and continuous character. Everywhere they are solid and closely knit. The amount of free gold varies in different claims even on the same ledges and it is mostly found very near the surface. Still free gold in small quantities is found everywhere. Tis apparent up to this time that the greatest value is in the sulphurets. The ore generally speaking is base. It carries iron pyrites a large per cent. of antimony and some lead. From 1 to 5 per cent. of the assays is silver. The rock is lively soft and easily worked though none of it can be called "free milling" ore.

And, now as to its value. Scores of assays have been made ranging from $4,000 to the ton downward. I find that the owners of the mines expect something fabulous but I am convinced that they have been and are still deceiving themselves. The rock up to the present development is unquestionably rich but it does not in the average run up into thousands or even into hundreds. The assays and the specimens from which such great results have been gained do not represent the average rock. Assays made upon the ground during the last two days by an assayer who knows his business and who himself selected his rock from the dumps or from the faces of the shafts range from $36 to $24 a per ton. It is suggestive of the uncertainty of prospect appearances and of miners reports that the lowest average assay was from the mine which has yielded the finest specimens of free gold and the highest assays. The assays which are quoted above as the average were made purely in the spirit of investigation. I believe that they represent the average character of the mines in their present development. The returns it will be seen are far from fabulous but they are rich enough to make Granite mountain a great bonanza. Who seriously expects or desires more than this?

To name over and describe the various prospects called mines would be a useless task and would only confuse an account which I fear is already none too clear. On the five ledges which I have described there are not less than 100 claims each with a distinct name and each in the eye of its owner with some peculiar value over all the others. In the average they are not down more than four feet from the surface though a number are down ten or twenty feet. The deepest is fifty feet in the Companion mine, located on the third or middle ledge. At fifty feet depth the vein is wider by some inches than at the surface, and the rock is in almost uniformly rich all the way down. An assay from a strip of rock cut from the face of the vein at the bottom of the shaft assayed yesterday $28. And yet from this strip the average of rock and I knock off a point that would yield $3000 per ton. In the Whitman mine in the first or lowest ledge a shaft has gone down twenty-five feet and from this a drift of twenty five feet has been run. From the dump average rock an assay yesterday showed $24. I could go on with similar details indefinitely but this is enough to show the average.

After a careful examination in which the above facts and more have been learned (not without much weariness of limb and sweat of brow) I am of the opinion that the discovery is a very great one. So far as development has progressed it has shown the mines to be rich. Of course it is impossible to see into the ground further than the point of a pick or to know what is beyond but up to the present time all the conditions are absolutely favorable.

Among the people in camp here is H. Thomas Jr. He has spent two weeks in examination exploration etc. His opinions I am sure will be read with interest. He said to me to-day: "I came here to stay three days but I was so impressed with the immense possibilities of the camp that I remained. I have been here now two weeks and shall stay certainly till deep snow fall and possibly during the winter. After a varied experience and observation of something over twenty years I have never seen a mining district which at such an early stage of its development gave such promise of wealth and permanence as this. If one third of the number of claims already discovered here had been found in an area of similar extent in Nevada, Arizona or California the roads leading to it would have been lined with wagons, horsemen and footmen. I shall be greatly surprised if within eighteen months from this time this district fails to show a population of 5,000 with an output never equaled on this coast since the palmy days of the Comstock. I intend to cast in with it anyhow and take the chances."

This is high testimony and from a high source. The pencil of my old desk grows hard and writing is wearisome. Further news I shall write further of this subject.

A Remarkable Tribute.

Sidney Ourthundro of Pittsburg, Pa., writes: I have used DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS many years with the most gratifying results. The relieving influence of HALL'S BALSAM is wonderful. The pain and rack of the body incidental to a tight cough soon disappear by the use of a spoonful according to directions. My wife frequently sends for HALL'S BALSAM instead of a physician and health is speedily restored by its use.

A PROMINENT MAN MURDERED

The Recent Drowning near Skamokawa—A Mexican Murderer Lynched—Homicide near Walla Walla—San Francisco Notes

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—The Grand opera house was the scene of considerable excitement to-night during a performance of "Undine," in which there was interlarded a wrestling match between the wrestlers Ross and Bauer. For a short time it was feared blood would be shed. The Post Publishing company had obtained a writ of attachment against the manager of the opera house on a claim for an advertisement. The writ was placed in the hands of four deputy sheriffs who attempted to levy on the money box in the office. Treasurer Cochran refused to concede to their demand, and drew a revolver to protect the money in his charge. His demonstration was the signal for a simultaneous drawing of pistols by the four deputies. One of the latter attempted to break a window and force his way into the box office. Con Mooney, manager of the wrestling match, interposed his body and was speedily reinforced by two police officers and also by the customer. The latter had several teeth loosened by a blow. It is not known by whom he was struck. The matter ended in the arrest of Deputy Goldstein.

TRANSFER OF THE SUB-TREASURY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—The formal transfer of the office of assistant United States treasurer was completed this afternoon, N. W. Spaulding turning over the whole business to his successor, S. H. Brooks, and taking his receipt in full therefor. The count was commenced the 1st of August. The magnitude of the transfer may be partially understood when it is said that in round numbers there was $51,000,000 in gold coin, weighing eighty-five tons, and $20,000,000 in standard dollars and subsidiary silver, weighing 775 tons to be counted. The count has been in progress thirty-six days, and has given employment to eighteen men working seven hours daily. The plan for counting the silver was to ascertain the contents of a light weight bag. This being found to contain $1000, all the bags that balanced it were considered to be full and correct. The count terminated at 3 P. M. to-day and the books, vouchers and moneys were found to be entirely correct without the variation of a single cent. Balances turned over by Mr. Spaulding to his successor amounted to $80,[illegible] including $51,000,000 in gold.

IMMIGRATION NOTES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—The immigration association of this city received a letter yesterday from a gentleman in Indiana that about the 1st of October he would leave for California with a large party of farmers, all in good circumstances and some wealthy. One has $75,000 which he proposes to invest. Others have nearly as much. The writer says: "Farmers in my neighborhood are selling out their places and preparing to go to California. There are no paupers among them."

A member of the Mennonite community of Kansas has arrived here and says a large colony of Mennonites will follow as soon as he has fixed upon a location for their settlement. A German gentleman from Illinois has also come out to select a location for 250 families who have organized for a colony and will come out early next year.

CLAUS SPRECKELS' VIEWS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—In an interview to-day Claus Spreckels was interrogated upon the bill made by the New Zealand government for an eighteen days mail service between this city and New Zealand. Mr. Spreckels said that such service would not pay with only $150,000 subsidy offered by the New Zealand government. It was a question of coal, and no company could afford to run at the rate of fifteen knots an hour which an eighteen days service would require for the amount offered as subsidy. If a company should undertake to do so it would come out short $150,000. If this government and the New Zealand government would contribute $300,000 between them service could be given. Shortening a trip two or three days would take at least one-third more coal.

THE GRANT MONUMENT COMMITTEE.

The Grant monument state general committee held a meeting this afternoon. Senator Stanford presided, and a large amount of capital was represented. Stanford said he had no doubt that $500,000 could be easily raised, but believed that $1,000,000 could be raised in California just as easily. He reasoned that while gentlemen might contribute small amounts to a commonplace monument, if something was projected that would be an ornament to the state it would stimulate the generous impulses of the people and the amount required would be forthcoming.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER

8 P. M.—Weather indications for the next thirty-two hours: North Pacific, partly cloudy weather, light local rains, variable winds generally light westerly. Middle Pacific, fair weather, variable winds generally westerly. South Pacific, fair weather, variable winds generally westerly.

REFUSED LANDING

The customhouse has refused landing to twenty-four Chinamen out of about 700 brought by the City of Peking on her last trip, on the ground that they do not answer the descriptions given in the certificates held by them. The courts will have to pass upon their cases.

THE SHOALING OF THE SACRAMENTO

The shoaling of the Sacramento river is attracting such serious attention that an examination of it will be made by Senator Stanford and the other members of the California congressional delegation.

NAVIGATION IMPEDED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—The San Francisco passenger and freight boats have, owing to the shoaling of the river, entirely ceased arriving at Sacramento. Freights and passengers are transferred to light draft barges at the head of the river below the city. Barges loaded with grain coming down the river have to lighter at the bend above the city if drawing more than three feet.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—A barge stuck in the drawbridge to-day over the Sacramento river and delayed for several hours the Oregon bound mail. The barge, after its load of grain was removed, was towed off.

GOOD TIME

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—Neilson's time of 1:13¾ in the El Paso stake race, three-quarters of a mile, to-day, for all ages, is not only the fastest time ever made on the Pacific coast, but within half a second of the best time made in the world.

STATE DISPATCHES

THE DROWNING NEAR SKAMOKAWA

ASTORIA, Sept. 11.—The Astorian will publish to-morrow a letter from Frank B. Humminston dated Skamokaway September 10 giving particulars of the drowning of two men, indefinitely reported before. He owned a boat and was starting for Knappton Tuesday evening, intending to go from there to Skamokaway. Two men, strangers to him, asked passage across to a point just below Knappton. Humminston asked ~~of the men to take~~ down the sprit and [illegible] the sprit came down it shoved [illegible] overboard. I sprang from the tiller, ran forward and grasped the man's shoulder. The sail came down with a run. The end of the boom was caught by the water and I lay the boat on her beam end. A squall struck the mainsail and the boat filled. I found myself sinking, threw off my overcoat and swam to a light on shore which proved to be driftwood on fire. Exhausted I lay there. The two men were never seen after I found myself in the water. My boat drifted ashore two hours after. I was unacquainted with both men and only know that they wanted to go to Skamokawa.

DIED FROM HER INJURIES

EUGENE, Sept. 11.—Mrs. M. J. Thompson died at 11:40 to-day. The funeral occurs to-morrow at 10 A. M., Dr. Geary officiating. Mrs. Thompson was born in Greensborough, North Carolina, April 25, 18[illegible]. Most of her life was spent in the middle states. She came to Oregon in August 1863 and has since lived with her son-in-law J. M. Hodson. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Hodson and Mrs. Eva Henley of Indianapolis. Mrs. Young's condition is slightly improved.

ITEMS FROM LA GRANDE.

LA GRANDE, Sept. 11.—For two days it has been showering in the Grand Ronde and Powder river valleys, terminating to-day in a general and steady rain. Crops are all in, and the country is quite ready for the rain, which will put the ground in the best condition for fall operation.

Shipments of cattle east from eastern Oregon continue large. Ten carloads were shipped from Baker City yesterday.

ARIZONA

A MEXICAN MURDERER HANGED

CHARLESTON, A. T., Sept. 11.—A report just received [illegible] from Bisbee, this county, states that a Mexican became involved in a dispute with an American at a faro game there last night because of the too great familiarity of the former, who was finally put out of the saloon. He, however, returned in a few minutes with a rifle and, standing at the door, fired into the crowd surrounding the table, causing great confusion and wounding two men. Before the people could hardly realize what had happened he had crossed the street and fired into another saloon, wounding two more men. He then fled to the Mexican part of town. An infuriated crowd soon gathered and, finding his place of concealment, dragged him out, and upon his being identified as the man that did the shooting procured a rope and hanged him to a tree. The condition of the wounded men is [illegible] known at this hour. No names are given in the report.

One of the victims has died and two [illegible] are expected to die.

ATTEMPTED DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

TOMBSTONE, Sept. 11.—The city was thrown into a great state of excitement last night by the discovery of a sack containing thirty sticks of giant powder under the residence of E. S. Clark. A partly burned fuse was connected with the powder. The discovery was made by the inmates by mere accident just before the occupants of the house retired. Clark was and is perhaps now the original owner of the Tombstone townsite, and a season of litigation extending over four or five years has obtained between the townsite company and the settlers. The land on which the town is located is mostly mining claims and the different original claimants have given the property-owners much trouble. Some property owners have titles from two or three different claimants and are now confronted with a demand for another purchase and threatened with eviction.

IDAHO.

A PROMINENT MAN MURDERED

LEWISTON, Sept. 11.—A messenger just arrived from Pierce City brings tidings that D. M. Frazer, for twelve years auditor of Shoshone county, was murdered early Thursday morning by three Chinamen. His body was cut to pieces, the instruments being two axes, a knife and a hatchet. Deceased slept in the rear of his store. Entrance was effected by the front window. He was first struck in bed, and after the murder the Chinamen hung blankets before the windows, lighted candles and searched for money. They made an unsuccessful attempt to break open the safe. Tracks show that two of the men were barefooted and one wore a pair of China shoes. Deceased was a pioneer of Oro Fino and universally respected for his integrity. There is no clue to the murderers.

There will be racing and a glass ball tournament October 15, 16 and 17, at Lewiston. Purses aggregating $1600 have already been hung.

HOMICIDE NEAR WALLA WALLA

A Drunken Man Takes Another Man's Horse, and Is Shot Dead

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 11.—Thursday night at [illegible] P. M., a man named Fred. E. Lux, with the general reputation of a crank, came to the Union office here stating that he had shot a man at his ranch four and a half miles from the city. The compositors immediately placed a guard over him and told him to consider himself arrested. Dr. Keyler, the coroner, with a deputy sheriff and a reporter then went to the scene of the tragedy, which Lux had stated correctly.

At the inquest to-day evidence was given as follows:

Officer Kinney being examined said he knew deceased to be James Dobson, an old pioneer of this country. On the night previous he had met him full of liquor and advised him to get to bed and sleep. Dobson refused, stating that his horse was tied up and he wanted to go home to his place at Frenchtown. Kinney went with him to hunt his horse. For a long time they could not find it, but finally at 8 P. M. they found a horse that Dobson said was his, tied to a rack at the court house square. Kinney put him in the saddle and told him to take care of himself. That was the last he saw of him until his dead body was seen.

LUX'S STORY

Lux being examined said he came to town and hitched his horse at the court house square on his arrival. On looking for him later he found him gone, and being of a suspicious nature concluded it had been stolen, and informed the city officers. He walked home and found his horse tied up with a man asleep with his head resting on his saddle. He woke him up and asked if the horse was his and if he wanted to sell him. Deceased said it was his horse and he didn't want to sell it. Lux called him a horse thief and went to his blankets, where he had been sleeping under a shed, and took his pistol. He said the man set a dog on him and he shot the dog and killed it. The man picked up something, and Lux considered his life in danger and shot the man, the ball [illegible] of a very large calibre [illegible] the stomach four inches above the navel, severing a large artery.

A juror asked him if the fact of the horse being found under the shadow of his own residence was not proof presumptive that no stealing was intended.

Lux said no; he thought his life endangered [illegible].

The weapon that deceased picked up was a single tree. There was not the least necessity for Lux firing. He gave deceased no opportunity to explain.

The jury brought in a verdict that Dobson came to his death by a pistol wound by the hand of Fred E. Lux.

WALLA WALLA NOTES

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 11.—The funeral of Capt. J. H. Smith, retired U. S. army officer, was attended by the military, G. A. R., Masons, K. of P., Grant Guards and A. O. U. W. societies.

The county fair is doing well. It is the best success in many years. Governor Squire will deliver the annual address Saturday.

The Farmer's Daughter company played to crowded houses two nights.

THE MINERS' CONVENTION

An Association Formed and Officers Elected—Object of the Union

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 11.—At the national convention of miners to-day resolutions were adopted favoring total abolition of the system of contracting for convict labor when it is brought into competition with free labor, the adoption of the two weeks pay and the abolition of the truck system in all its forms. It was also resolved to secure to members of the National Federation of Miners and Mine Laborers, the name of the organization formed, justice and equality in every legitimate way. A general suspension of mining coal in the United States and territories for one week [illegible] as early as possible was approved. A recommendation was adopted to the effect that on all general questions arising within the jurisdiction of the association ten days notice be given miners, provided the operators grant the same courtesy to them. The principles of arbitration were favored in preference to strikes, and following this a resolution [illegible] the free [illegible] system in all the states and territories was adopted.

After defining the duties of the executive board [illegible] to be the supreme governing body of the organization, and providing for revenues, which are to be raised by a monthly assessment of one cent on each member and twenty-five cents dues from each to be collected this year before November 1, the convention selected the following officers and members of the executive board at large: Chris Evans of Ohio, executive secretary, who is to also exercise the powers and duties of president; Daniel McLaughlin of Illinois, treasurer; J. J. Sullivan of Iowa, John H. Davis of Pennsylvania and J. B. Fleming of West Virginia, members at large of the executive board. Members of this board representing several states were chosen as follows: Illinois, David Ross; Ohio, John McBride; Indiana, Patrick McAdams; West Virginia, F. P. Gray; Iowa, David Reed; Kansas, James Smith; Pennsylvania, George Harris.

The convention will close to-morrow. During to-day's proceedings an address to the miners of the United States was adopted, stating that all [illegible] troubles are similar in character and urging all lodges and branches of miners unions to federate under one head.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Governments, quiet and strong. The stock market continues dull, except for three or four stocks, and prices were irregular and at times feverish. The lowest prices were made in most cases during the forenoon, but some stocks touched still lower figures near 1 P. M. In the forenoon Union Pacific rose from 49¼ to [illegible], but yielded before noon to 49[illegible]. The market was comparatively steady for a time after midday and became extremely dull. As the closing hour approached some show of strength was infused into final dealings, which carried quotations as a rule to the highest figures reached. Changes this evening from final prices yesterday are generally only small fractions. Western Union and Northern Pacific preferred are ⅛ higher, and Central Pacific went down 1⅛. Union Pacific is unchanged.

The market for mining shares was strong and business light. Sales: California and Virginia $1 80, Bodie $1 60, Best & Belcher $1 2[illegible], Hale & Norcross $[illegible], Sutro Tunnel 17, Little Pittsburg 22, Navajo 85, Savage $2, Union Consolidated [illegible], Horn Silver $2 [illegible], Caledonia Black Hills $2.

"How's Your Liver?"

In the comic opera of "The Mikado" this Imperial dignitary says:

"To make, to some extent,
Each evil Liver
A running river
Of harmless merriment."

A nobler task than making evil livers rivers of harmless merriment no person, king or layman could take upon himself. The liver, among the ancients, was considered the source of all the evil impulses, and the chances are ten to one to-day that if one's liver is in an ugly condition of discontent someone's head will be mashed before night.

"How's your liver?" is equivalent to the inquiry, "Are you a bear or an angel to-day?"

Nine-tenths of the "pure cussedness," the actions for divorce, the curtain lectures, the family rows (not to speak of murders, crimes and other calamities) are prompted by the irritating effect of the torpidity of the liver upon the brain. Fothergill, the great specialist, says this, and he knows. He also knows that to prevent such catastrophies nothing equals Warner's safe cure, renowned throughout the world as a maker of

"Each evil Liver
A running river
Of harmless merriment."

SPECIMENS OF ALUM

OLEQUA, W. T., Sept. 10.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I enclose you a specimen of mineral which I found that appears to be alum. There are tons of it in sight almost on top of the ground. Will you please tell me, through your paper, whether it is valuable or not. The specimen I send appears to have been burnt by forest fires. Other portions of it are not so white.

A. M. BARNETT

[The specimen received is undoubtedly alum. If it exists there in large quantities it can probably be worked to a profit. As far as can be ascertained no alum is manufactured in the United States. All used on this coast comes from England. Its value at wholesale is from $39 to $41 per ton. Probably no expensive plant would be required to manufacture the alum from this deposit. An experiment should be made by dissolving a quantity in hot water, making a very strong solution and then allowing it to crystalize. You should have an expert examine the deposit. It may be of great value.]

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Wednesday morning, at the [illegible] of [illegible], Burns & Chapman, railroad contractors on Green river, were getting up [illegible] tall trees that stood near the tent fell, killing one [illegible] and seriously injuring eight others. The name of the deceased is unknown, but he is a Norwegian [illegible] from Portland, where he has a brother residing, and had been at work but two days when the accident occurred.

The butchery of Chinese in the hop fields of Squak, near Seattle, parallels the similar crime on the Union Pacific in Wyoming. Seven persons are under arrest for the crime. Five are white men and two are Indians. Two other Indians are accused but could not be found. The names of the seven persons under arrest are McDewitt, [illegible], Joseph Day, Dan Hughes, Perry, Bayne, Sam Robertson and Indians Curley and John [illegible]. [illegible] make a confession before the [illegible] of the whole affair. Seven Chinese were shot, three of which are dead. The Chinese were picking hops for Wold brothers.

OREGON ITEMS

Several shafts have been sunk in the neighborhood of the present black sand mines in [illegible], some to the depth of twenty feet, and several beds of gold bearing sand have been found.

Already the ground has been covered with snow at the upper mines in the Pine Creek mountains. The boys are beginning to think of preparing for winter.

WANTED AN OREGON STUDENT

OXFORD, Md., Sept. [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Maryland Military and Naval academy has about 60 cadets from twenty-nine states, but not one from your state. The regular price for a year's tuition and board is $350, but in order to secure a student from your state I will offer a cadetship, board free, to one student from Oregon, who would therefore have to pay only $150 a year until graduating, instead of $350. This offer is made to only one student from your state, but I will give a special reduced rate to any editor who will publish this letter and who wish a scholarship for a friend or subscriber.

The adult may apply to the editor or direct to the superintendent, sending the slip at once, for there are few vacancies. He must submit good character and 14 years of age at least. Catalogue is sent on request. Respectfully,

R. J. BURGESS, Supt.

The Southern Style.

Mr. Mahone's Richmond Whig refers thus tenderly and tropically to the overwhelming of a political opponent:

The most inglorious Rufus Aaron Burr Otis Burke Webster Wirt Simon Topcroft Fiddles Ayers is forever laid to rest. Far up among the blue mountains, where the eagle darts from his home to the sky down the deep gorges upon his quarry, where the stag roams wild and knows no fear, or finds refuge in the dark resounding caverns, and the 'possum is much sought after, little Ayers hath been interred.

Good-by rheumatism, good-bye! St. Jacobs Oil knocks you sky high.

From Pole to Pole

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 1, 1883

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, RALPH T. WINGATE

The Trooper's Experience.

Masern, Basutoland (S. Africa) March 7, 1883

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure in testifying to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had these sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made the sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. E. FOGAS

OUR LONDON LETTER.

The Aggressive Colonial Policy Developed by the German Empire

Her Occupation of the Caroline Islands Discussed from an English Standpoint—Schemes for Extending Trade

Correspondence of the Sunday Oregonian.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Germany's ambition for colonies has been awakened somewhat late in her history. But not too late. England, France, Spain and Holland have made their marine marches of conquest many long years ahead of her. But she is just in time to take her place among the great land-grabbers of the universe. If she would be successful she should emulate the policy of the English. She must "occupy" where she plants her flag, and develop the trade of her new settlements, interfering as little as possible with native prejudices and religions. In dealing with slavery, which she will find existing in every uncivilized country, she must not be violent in her first steps toward its suppression. Here and there she will find it in the comparatively mild form of a domestic institution which is little broader than the old system of the peasant labor market of England. But in the majority of cases she will find it a brutal, cruel and abominable system. She must wink at this until she can lay a strong hand upon it and crush it out. The first duty is to consider the local situation from a native point of view and work a reform as closely as possible to the native idea. To be just, fearless and generous; always to do right, and to make personal and even national sacrifices to be right are paramount duties and represent the only road to success. Hitherto the Germans have shown too selfish a commercial policy. They have betrayed a disposition to use their new stations merely as trading posts, and have been too self-assertive in their efforts to dragoon native chiefs into their ways. But they are green at the work. They will improve and they will be successful. It is a pity that they have not colonies where the climate is favorable to the settlement of their own peoples, but next to that are colonies they can rule and trade with, countries which can be rescued from barbarism and brought within the laws of civilization. The sentimental democrat holds that the whole notion of this so-called ambition of colonization is nothing more than a piratical scheme of land-grabbing, and he is perhaps not far wrong, but there are scores of lovely islands in the eastern seas where the natives are played out, where physical and sanitary laws have been outraged with the final results, skin diseases, smallpox and idiocy. It seems to be the duty of civilization to rescue these people from themselves, and if civilized powers do this with a proper recognition of the territorial and other rights of the aborigines, then they are fulfilling one of the highest and most serious responsibilities of greatness. In the old days England cannot be said to have fulfilled these responsibilities. Her record is a record of rough, vigorous and often brutal conquest, but she was no worse than her rivals, sometimes much better. Different times, different manners: what we would consider barbarous to-day, were not barbarous in the days of Elizabeth, of Cromwell and the Charleses, not even in the later days of the Georges, but England has made far more rapid strides in the civilizing rules of subject races than either France, Spain or Holland, and to-day the desire to "be just and fear not" in the treatment of colonial and conquered peoples is, in Europe, almost, I regret to say, exclusively our English sentiment. But England is notorious for "running into extremes." Mr. Gladstone's emotional sentimentality in this direction has borne bitter fruit in both South Africa and Egypt. No English minister ever made more puerile mistakes in colonial policy than Mr. Gladstone, not only in respect to the government of existing possessions, but in his jealousy of the colonial ambition of both Germany and France. In respect to Germany he was clearly moved by a dog-in-the-manger feeling that was uncalled for, unwise, and, above all, unstatesmanlike. He and Lord Granville were in continual hot water with Germany, and Lord Derby varied their troubles by having squabbles with the colonial government themselves. None of these ministers and none of the liberal chiefs have shown a capacity of dealing with foreign, international, or colonial questions. They apply little local, insular and domestic tactics to the great and complicated affairs in which the policies, prejudices and ambition of other nations and peoples have to be taken into account, and so they invariably come to grief and become the authors of terrible and devastating wars.

GERMANY AND THE CAROLINE ISLANDS.

Not the least of the international difficulties which Mr. Gladstone bequeathed to Lord Salisbury were Germany's claims in eastern Africa. Mr. Gladstone has had unfortunate misunderstandings with Vienna and Berlin. His latest intercourse with Germany evinced a poor kind of jealousy in respect of the Bismarckian ambition to make Germany a colonial power. He should have welcomed Germany into the field of colonial responsibility; he should have held out frank, neighborly hands to Bismarck and the emperor. He did neither, and whatever concession he made, if he made any, he made it grudgingly. Frankness, sincerity, and firmness have been entirely wanting in Mr. Gladstone's foreign policy. Whether Lord Salisbury succeeds in maintaining the peace of Europe or not, his peace will be honorable, and, should he fail to keep clear of hostilities, his war will be none the less so. The bold, manly, outspoken course is the best. If Mr. Gladstone had adopted it in Egypt there would have been no bombardment of Alexandria, and the tragedy of Khartoum would have never blurred the page of history. But let me not drift into the African question. I started to discuss the latest phase of the colonial ambition of Germany and its possibilities. Lord Salisbury's influence has helped Germany to come to a satisfactory understanding with the Sultan of Zanzibar. The French journals which hate England, are angry at this. La France finds compensation in "the language of the Russian press, which affirms that the question of Egypt is international, and that Russia at least will energetically resist the efforts of England to settle it separately with the porte." We shall see. Meanwhile, the news of Germany's settlement of her territoria property and position on the east coast of Africa comes a sensational account of her occupation of the Caroline islands: "Fresh Annexations by Germany." "Protest by Spain." "Spanish War Ships Ordered to the Pacific." Reuter's telegrams report that the news created a profound sensation in Madrid. Before this letter reaches you the cable will probably explain that Germany has planted her flag in some unimportant island over which no nation has attempted to exercise a protectorate, and that the sensation is at an end. A German dispatch says the German boats have only gone to the Carolines in search of laborers for her new possessions in New Guinea. It always seems natural enough in England to hear of British annexations, but when some other power extends her empire English pettifogs rush to their maps with jealous anger. In this case of the Carolines Spain is the offended power, though Spain has a bad habit of claiming islands, over some of which her flag has not even waved, much less have her soldiers occupied. It is time the kind of protectorate which Spain too often sets up on maps should be investigated—protectorates without occupation, past or present. In the case of Borneo and the Sulu archipelago an agreement has been arrived at between England, Germany and Spain, in which the two former powers recognize the sovereignty of Spain over the entire archipelago, comprising the islands between Mindanao, the mainland of Borneo and the island of Paragua. Spain had already obtained the concession of these territories from the sultan of Sulu. On her part Spain acknowledges certain other rights of England and the British North Borneo company, and a mutual agreement is made in regard to freedom of commerce. But the Caroline islands the repeated annexation of which by Germany seems like a joke to those who know their geog-
